

A CUE FOR JULIE — President Nixon's daughter, Julie Nixon Eisenhower, tries a pool shot at Barton Center for the Aged in Cleveland.

Nixon Family Keeps Busy In Politics — Except David

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon hasn't been seen in public much so far this campaign season. But his kinfolk are becoming increasingly active—except for David Eisenhower.

Eisenhower, husband of Nixon's younger daughter, Julie, is to be pitted or envied for his absence from the hustings, depending on how one feels about vote-stumping.

Grandson of one president and son-in-law of another, Eisenhower thinks he is due more pity than envy. He is said to enjoy campaigning, perhaps envisioning the day he might run for high office himself.

As a Navy lieutenant junior grade, however, he can only show up in civilian attire at a Nixon rally, and cannot make any speeches.

Beyond that, he faces a formidable barrier to even token appearances on political platforms this autumn. As a crew member of the cruiser Albany, he recently embarked on six months of sea duty.

The importance the Nixon camp attaches to family campaigning was dramatized Thursday when Mrs. Nixon's office released a variety of travel schedules for the first lady, Julie, daughter Tricia and her husband, Edward Cox.

Tricia, the White House announced belatedly, was in Princeton, N.J., Thursday to tour a housing center for the elderly.

Mrs. Nixon was doing her bit for the campaign today by visiting the Norristown, N.J., headquarters of the famous seeing-eye dogs.

On Monday the first lady will embark on a cross-country tour that will take her to Illinois, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, California, Oklahoma and Texas.

She will end her solo travels in time to join her husband next Friday at the Floresville, Texas ranch of former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, head of Democrats for Nixon.

As an example of how the Nixon family campaigns while the head of the household supposedly concentrates on official duties, look to Saturday. That's when Republicans will conduct a voter-registration drive in 49 major cities coast to coast.

Tricia will be in Columbus, Ohio, husband Ed in Cincinnati, Julie in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Nixon in Flushing, N. Y.

The President presumably will be at the White House or at his Camp David retreat in Maryland, a half-hour away by helicopter.

But only David Eisenhower, it seems, is clearly out of the fray—as long as the Albany remains at sea.

Train Derails In Truck Crash

NAPOLÉON, Ohio (AP) — Three persons were injured and 26 cars derailed when a Baltimore & Ohio freight train struck a tractor-trailer truck about two miles west of Deshler early today.

Henry County sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred on a railroad crossing at the intersection of Ohio 18 and 55 during an early morning fog. Deputies said the train dragged the truck body about 1,000 feet down the track.

Hospitalized were truck driver Bruce A. Nelson of Trenton, N. J., engineer Elton Howard Jr., 53, of Garrett, Ind., and fireman Peter A. Savage, no age available, of Syracuse, Ind. Officials said none of the three was in critical condition.

Compromise Tax-Sharing Plan Reached; Cash May Flow Soon

Claim False Viet Air Strike Reports Filed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate probe has been told that someone in the 7th Air Force filed dual reports — one true one false—about pre-planned air strikes against North Vietnam.

Sgt. Lonnie Franks told the Senate Armed Services Committee Thursday that the false reports were widely circulated, but that, as nearly as he could determine, the true account went only to "individuals" at 7th Air Force headquarters.

Franks, whose letter to a senator prompted the committee's closed-door inquiry, was assigned at the time to an intelligence job with the 342nd Reconnaissance Wing at Udorn, Thailand.

Franks told newsmen he didn't know whether the reports reached any officers ranking higher than Gen. John D. Lavelle, the 7th Air Force commander relieved of duties after disclosure of the strikes.

In order for the raids to be excused as "protective-reaction" strikes under the air-war rules, reports had to show that the pilots had been fired upon or locked in on by enemy missile radar.

In the reports he was told by superiors to falsify beginning last Jan. 25, Franks said, he wrote of ground fire when there had been none.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, whose nomination as Army chief of staff has been held up by the Lavelle inquiry, reportedly has testified he was unaware of the exact nature of the raids.

Several committee members have expressed the opinion that Lavelle stretched the ground rules to allow the step-up in raids.

Franks said that, as far as he could determine, the only clue that someone beyond the 7th Air Force could have had as to what was going on, from reading the false reports, was that "the number of missions increased fantastically."

Twenty-eight of the raids took place from November to March, before the intensified bombing of North Vietnam was ordered by the White House.

Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, quoted Abrams as telling the committee he had received no instructions to step up the raids.

But, Hughes said, the fighter-bomber commands "were encouraged to be more aggressive under existing orders."

"There were pre-planned strikes and falsification of reports," Hughes said. "In the 7th Air Force there was knowledge from top to bottom. Something is drastically wrong when the entire command assists in falsifying reports."

The Air Force investigation, the firing of Lavelle, the eventual publicity of the maneuvers, and the inquiry itself stemmed from the letter Hughes received from Franks, 23, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He is stationed now at McCoy Air Force Base, Fla.

California Vote Fraud Charged

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Charging massive fraud and forgery, California's top election official has gone to court to eliminate a controversial farm labor control initiative from the Nov. 7 ballot.

"To the best of my knowledge, this is the worst case of election fraud to ever be uncovered in California," Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. said Thursday in announcing the lawsuit.

"We have uncovered evidence that supporters of Prop. 22 misrepresented the initiative while circulating petitions to place it on the ballot, concealed the attorney general's official summary of the measure and even forged signatures on the petitions," he said.

"The proposition would allow growers to obtain injunctions against harvest-time strikes, would severely curb the use of consumer boycotts of produce from struck farms and would guarantee farm laborers the right to organize in unions and conduct secret organizing elections."

Spokesmen for supporters of the initiative called the charges "unproven" and said they were raised by "liberal politicians running for office."

"The signatures were gathered by a reputable firm employed by the Fair Labor Practices Committee," said Executive Vice President O.W. Fillen of the California Council of Growers, a leading supporter of the initiative.

Armed Teen-Ager Ends Holdup Attempt

CINCINNATI (AP) — Some days it just doesn't pay... A teen-ager, armed with a gun tried to rob bakery owner May Meyers Thursday but changed his mind when he learned there was only $4 in the till.

"Keep it, if that's all you got," Mrs. Meyers said she was told by the youth, who then walked out.

1st Payments Earmarked For October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional fashioners of a revenue-sharing program say they have resolved a big-state, little-state rivalry and cleared the way for $5.3 billion to start flowing in October to state-houses and city halls.

Senate and House conferees agreed Thursday night on a formula which, one aide said, means that everybody wins.

While that does not appear to be literally true, there seems little doubt that the two chambers will accept the compromise and send the bill to President Nixon—who asked for it—in time for October distributions.

The conferees expected to dispose of other aspects of the $30-billion, five-year measure at a final session today, pointing to final passage next week.

Senate and House versions of the bill disagreed on the weight that should be given different factors in determining states' revenue shares.

The House version rewarded states relying on their own income tax. The Senate formula allocated more funds to 33 small states, less to 17 big, industrialized states.

This is how the conferees resolved the problem:

They left both formulas in the bill and provided that each state's share should be figured by the one more favorable to that state. But since this would have required more funds than the $5.3 billion budgeted for this year, the compromise provides that each share be scaled down by about 9.1 per cent.

After this year, the reduction will no longer apply.

Under the compromise, Ohio would receive $206.9 million.

Roundtown

ONLY two red and black booster flags were seen flying in downtown Circleville at press time today...

But the reason is not un-concern, according to area merchants... The merchants report that the banners are easy targets for souvenir hunters and many were "lost" during the last football campaign...

Traditionally, the flags are flown in the downtown area when the Tigers play at home... It is a tradition that we feel most merchants would like to continue... But, where can they get new flags?

JEFF Beatty, the Teays Valley High School athlete injured seriously this summer and who only recently regained consciousness, had two surprise visitors yesterday... They were Champ Henson, a former TV grinner who will be starting at fullback Saturday against Iowa, and his coach, Woody Hayes... Although Beatty has shown tremendous improvement during the past few days, visiting is still discouraged.

Defense Money Bill Passes Full House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved the biggest defense-spending bill since World War II and refused, after 10 minutes' debate, to cut off funds for the Vietnam war.

A two-hour squabble was climaxed by a vote to phase out KP duty from the military.

The $74.6-billion defense bill was passed 322 to 40 Thursday night and sent to the Senate.

The war-money cutoff, the same as one being pressed by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., in the Senate, was rejected 208 to 160.

"We have stayed too long and paid to great a price," said Rep. Joseph P. Addabbo, D-N.Y., author of the House amendment. "It is time to come home and heal our own wounds."

But House Armed Services Committee Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., noted the House repeatedly has refused to vote congressional restraints on the war and said there was little left to debate.

There were shouts of "Vote! Vote!" and the House rejected Addabbo's amendment after ten minutes of debate.

It would have cut off money for all U.S. operations in Indochina, except for withdrawal, in four months providing Hanoi had released American prisoners by then and given an accounting of missing GIs.

The major House debate was over military programs to phase out KP, derided as making life too soft for GIs and defended as a major incentive for attracting an all-volunteer military by next June 30.

Overriding an Appropriations Committee recommendation to terminate programs aimed at turning KP over to civilian workers, the House voted 265 to 117 to authorize continuation of the programs.

Jail Onassis, Urges Greek Attorney

ATHENS (AP) — An Athens attorney has filed suit asking that Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis be jailed for breaking plates at a seaside nightclub party last Friday.

Nicholas Galiadis said after filing the suit on Wednesday that the old Greek custom is now against the law, at least 20 persons are now serving time for plate-breaking and that Onassis should also be jailed or the law repealed. It calls for a fine and imprisonment of up to six months.

Watergate Break-In Figure Faces Charges Over Cash

MIAMI (AP) — Miami real estate broker Bernard L. Barker, one of five men charged in a break-in at Democratic national headquarters, has been accused of fraudulently notarizing a $25,000 Republican campaign contribution.

State Attorney Richard Gerstein of Miami Thursday charged Barker of falsely using his notary public seal on a check he deposited in his Miami bank account.

Barker was caught inside Democratic headquarters at the Watergate Complex in Washington, D.C., and Gerstein has said that testimony by a Miami photographer has linked Barker to a possible second break-in attempt at the Democratic offices.

The latest charge against Barker stems from a $25,000 check which apparently came from Republican campaign funds. It apparently was given by Kenneth Dahlberg, President Nixon's Midwest campaign finance chairman, to Maurice Stans, Nixon's chief political fund-raiser and ultimately to Barker.

Gerstein, a Democrat, said he would bring the case to trial before the November presidential election and "to have the facts come out and not be delayed and swept under the rug."

Gerstein charged Barker "fraudulently and falsely swore that Kenneth Dahlberg had signed the check in Barker's presence, when in truth Barker had never met and had not seen Kenneth Dahlberg."

Gerstein's office said that an official at a Miami bank had questioned the validity of Dahlberg's signature on the check when Barker tried to deposit it in his account on April 20.

The chief investigator for the state attorney, Martin Dardis, said Miami Republic Bank Vice President Ettore Teynaldo reported Barker returned with the check notarized with an official seal — his own.

Barker is free on bond in connection with the Watergate case.

Blame House Fire On Smoking Dog

CINCINNATI (AP) — The family dog didn't deny it and the Madison Township Volunteer Fire Department couldn't find any other cause.

So, the smoky fire at the Trenton, Ohio, home of Kay Smith was officially reported as caused by "Dog smoking in bed."

There was no damage reported after firemen cleared the smoke from the house Thursday, but two smoldering cigarette butts were found in the dog's bed.

Grumbling East-West Trade Barriers Amaze Officials

By STERLING F. GREEN Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official announcement that a U.S. Soviet trade pact may be signed in the near future underscores the speed with which East-West trade barriers have crumbled since President Nixon's summit trips to Moscow and Peking.

The Commerce Department considers it possible that U.S. exports to Russia may reach or exceed $800 million this year, five times the 1971 level. The forecast of an early trade agreement, made jointly by the White House and the Kremlin Thursday, coincided with reports of multibillion-dollar industrial deals brewing with the Russians and historic wheat sales to China.

Meantime, a congressional hearing explored Democratic allegations that the Nixon administration let wheat exporters profiteer—at the expense of U.S. farmers and taxpayers— from massive grain sales to Russia.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz denied the accusations. He told a House Agriculture subcommittee that, if George McGovern continues "innuendoes, misstatements, falsehoods and haranguing," further business with Russia may be endangered. But already the charges by the Democratic presidential nominee and others had become a campaign issue in the wheat belt.

In addition to the Russian sales, the Agriculture Department said export payment registrations indicate that 15 million bushels of wheat have been sold to China, but possibly through third parties.

These events capped a succession of announcements by U.S. corporations of trade deals with both Communist governments, despite the lack of a trade agreement.

There are indications that even administration officials are surprised at the rapid series of East-West trade developments. These include:

—Disclosure that Russia, which agreed in July to buy $750 million worth of grain in three years, by now has bought at least $1 billion worth and is taking deliveries four times faster than expected.

—Announcement by the Boeing Co. that China will pay hard cash—125 million U.S. dollars—for 10 Boeing 707 jets.

—Announcement in Moscow by President Armand Hammer of Occidental Petroleum Corp. that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has approved a series of major projects including construction of a permanent U.S. trade center with quarters for 400 American firms in Moscow and a large hotel.

—Other pending transactions, totaling "several billion dollars" by Dr. Hammer's estimate, involve a "very big" U.S. purchase of Soviet natural gas and a 20-year agreement under which Occidental would supply fertilizer chemicals to Russia in exchange for Soviet raw materials.

—A prediction by Deputy Assistant Secretary of Commerce Edward Allen that Soviet purchases of grain and other products will be "large enough to help correct the U.S. trade deficit in the final months of 1972." In a speech Wednesday, Allen forecast the $800-million total of U.S. exports to Russia.

—Pullman Inc. has reported that it hopes to sell up to $400 million worth of U.S. goods to the Soviet Union.

Math Teacher Employed By A-C Board

A high school math teacher was awarded a contract at the Sept. 11 meeting of the Amanda-Clarke Board of Education.

Employment of John A. Leinger filled the vacancy in the faculty staffing at A-C High. In addition, the board offered supplemental contracts to:

Ted Wyant, to teach driver education; David Bennett, direct the Junior Class play; James Wright, coach, reserve basketball.

Mrs. Sandra Ludwick was employed as Amanda elementary secretary.

Board members discussed but took no immediate action on participation in the Satellite Media Center, a program in Pickaway County schools for obtaining use of films and other audio visual aids.

Appointment of Mrs. Charlene King was made to serve as junior high cheerleader adviser. Substitute lists have been compiled and were okayed by the board. Included are:

Study Hall Monitors—Joann Hinton, Joan Nye, Genevieve Swain and Phyllis McKenzie.

Cafeteria—Eileen Stonerock, Violet Clifton, Gladys Vorhees, Marjorie Kinser, Dorothy Hedrick, Joyce Miller and Gloria Adams.

Bus Driver—John Smith. Custodian—Larry Arledge.

Employed in regular capacities were Mrs. Sonja Hutchinson, bus driver, and David Brentlinger as part-time custodian.

The board will receive sealed bids for the 1959 one and one half ton Chevrolet stake truck on or before Oct. 6 which will be replaced at a later date.

Attending the meeting were board members Mrs. Jean Muck, Elwood Kim, Jack Fausnaugh and President Ronald F. Bates. Superintendent W. A. Smith, Principals R. V. Smith, D. W. Evans, C. T. Martindale and Clerk Ann Cole.

—McDonnell-Douglas Corp. has received an export license to demonstrate its DC10 airliner in China.

—Two relatively small U.S. tool-and-die companies have signed letters of intent for a $55-million contract to set up plants in five Russian cities to produce silverware and other tableware. The firms are Allied Tool & Die Corp. of Rochester and Atlas Fabricators of Los Angeles.

Many of the transactions exist merely on paper so far because the Russians want credit. Credit terms await the signing of a U.S.-Soviet trade treaty and an agreement on the settlement of Russia's lend-lease debt from World War II.

The Moscow-Kremlin statement issued Thursday after talks between Soviet officials and presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger said "negotiations on a lend-lease settlement and on concluding a trade agreement would be continued in Washington in September with the aim of completing them in the near future."

The Soviets' serious grain harvest failure has prompted the unexpectedly heavy buying of U.S. wheat and feed grains, and inevitably will deplete Russia's supply of foreign exchange available for buying Western machinery and industrial equipment.

Some experts predict Moscow soon will be obliged to sell significant amounts of its gold hoard to pay for grain. In any case, the Russian bargainers will be hard-pressed for cash, but their credit is good worldwide.

For its part, the United States is rapidly becoming a have-not nation in terms of raw materials and energy, and thus has strong future incentive to tap the rich resources of both Communist nations.

Semir Truck Out Of Control When Driver Blacks Out

A Cleveland area man escaped an injury 8:15 a.m. Friday when he blacked out at the wheel of his semi tractor-trailer rig and drove 512 feet out of control near the Franklin County line.

According to Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover, William E. Sullivan, 44, Brookpark, was hauling 42,000 pounds of steel castor rollers for Commercial Motor Freight. He had just passed County Road 525, headed north on Route 23.

Sullivan told the deputy that he lit a cigarette and developed a coughing spasm. He apparently started to get dizzy and when he felt he would pass out, he slowed down and started to pull to the right berm.

The next thing he remembers, he was in a field.

Deputy Hoover said the semi left the right side of Route 23 for 144 feet, ripping down 60 feet of wire farm fence and 4 posts owned by H. O. Caldwell, Route 1, Lockbourne.

The rig then proceeded 398 feet farther through a densely wooded area and came to rest between two big trees.

A witness directly behind the truck said Sullivan put on his right turn signal and was slumped over the wheel during the out of control drive.

Kissinger, Tho Meeting Today; No Information

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger is meeting again today with Le Due Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo, the U.S. Embassy announced. But the Embassy refused to say where or when they would meet or even if Kissinger had arrived in Paris from London.

It did announce that the meeting was the 17th secret talk on the Vietnam war between President Nixon's national security adviser and the North Vietnamese leader. And it said Xuan Thuy, the head of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks, would also attend.

"In accordance with our agreement with the other side, we have no further information to provide you on this meeting," the embassy announcement said.

The language of the announcement mirrored that of an earlier statement issued by Presidential Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler in Washington.

The announcement added that Kissinger would meet with President Georges Pompidou late this afternoon to "report to him on the talks in Moscow and discuss other matters of mutual interest." Kissinger is on his way back from talks in Moscow on trade arrangements and other matters. He was in London Thursday and is due to fly back to Washington this evening.

The last non-public peace session was on Aug. 14.

Stock List Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices wavered uncertainly in a narrow range on the stock market today, as on Thursday. Trading remained quiet slow.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was unchanged at 947.55. Declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange maintained a small lead over gaining stocks.

Crowell-Collier was the volume leader on the Big Board, off 1/8 to 110. Most of the trading was on a block of 173,900 shares that sold at that figure.

Berven Carpets was the American Stock Exchange's volume leader, down 3/8 to 16 1/4. The New York Stock Exchange index was down .05 to 59.75.

The price index at the Amex eased down .01 to 26.16.

In addition to the $5 million worth of new machinery, Lawrence County Extension Agent Bob Crawford's sorgho mill will again be at the Review to demonstrate the old-fashioned art of sorgho pressing to make molasses.

See No Vietnam Settlement Progress Before January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. officials are privately expressing doubt that a negotiated settlement to the Vietnam war can be expected before January, despite a possible flurry of diplomatic activity in the weeks ahead.

The new date apparently stems mainly from the belief that it will take the North Vietnamese, the Viet Cong and their supporters about two months to assess the situation after the election. U.S. officials say the hard-line approach by the North Vietnamese will continue until after the election, despite the expanded U.S. bombing.

The assessment comes on the heels of Dr. Henry Kissinger's meetings with Soviet leaders. And there are hints that Kissinger, the President's national security adviser, may meet privately with Le Duc Tho, Hanoi's special Politburo envoy to the Paris peace talks.

It is possible that between now and the election the Nixon administration could drop hints and indications that the negotiating process is building up to a climax. This line of action would be easy for voters anxious for peace to accept.

The new appraisal, however, is that Hanoi is not likely, even though it may make statements to the contrary, to change from the hard line that has marked the North Vietnamese public position throughout the war.

Soviet sources say it is safe to assume that Kissinger was told that American proposals to establish a cease-fire and halt the war have meant the National Liberation Front would have to surrender to the government of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu. The Russians have ignored Thieu's offer to step down before new elections, and insist that present proposals would be suicide for the National Liberation Front and the Viet Cong.

The Soviets are telling newsmen that Moscow is fully aware of the danger of a wider conflict growing out of the war. But they say that even if they wanted to convince their friends in Hanoi to surrender, North Vietnam would never agree.

However, if the election returns President Nixon to office, officials here are hopeful that Hanoi will reappraise its position and, by January, be ready for serious negotiations.

$1,010 Paid For Champ Barrow

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP) — The 1972 grand champion barrow, a Duroc, sold for $1,010 Wednesday at the conclusion of the National Barrow Show in Austin.

Mr. Timber was owned by Johnny Peugh, 19, Stanton, Tex. The 235-pound winner sold for $430 per pound to Pete Lyon of Sioux Falls, S.D.

Johnny, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Peugh, is a sophomore at Texas A&M majoring in animal science. He's been raising Durocs since age 9.

The reserve champion barrow, a Poland China, was owned by Scott Bennett, Martinsville, Ill. At 240 pounds, it sold at $2.10 a pound for $504.

In other judging Wednesday, the champion Yorkshire boar was sold by Homer R. Jenkins, Murphysboro, Ill., to Stro-Wold Farms, Bowling Green, Mo., for $8,200.

The champion Poland China was sold by Harvey Richardson, Elmore City, Okla., to Larry, Leland and Kenneth Mapes, Union Center, Ohio, for $2,000.

GRAY ATHLETIC CLUBS

YMCA's Gra-Y Program will organize a meeting at Atwater school on Monday with the first water school. For boys in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades, the program involves boys in leadership training, value development, school and community service, development of athletic skills and an opportunity to participate in athletic events and tournaments.

This year's program, in addition to the bi-monthly meetings after school, will feature a Saturday morning Flag Football program, free swims at Chillicothe YMCA, Camp-in at the local YMCA and at Hill Top YMCA, Gra-Y Saturday Open House at the YMCA, two football game trips, one hockey trip, World Service Candy sales, basketball tournament and many other activities.

Following the first organizational meeting at Atwater school on Monday, Sept. 18, the other organizational meetings are as follows: South Court, Sept. 19; High Street, Sept. 20; Nicholas, Sept. 21; Mound, Sept. 22; Washington, Sept. 23; Corwin, Sept. 26; Monroe, Sept. 27; Ashville, Sept. 28; Jackson, Sept. 29; and Pickaway, Oct. 2; and Salt-creek, Oct. 3.

Membership in Gra-Y is included in YMCA Youth and Family Memberships.

Y-INDIAN GUIDES

Y Indian Guides from the eleven tribes of the Pickaway Plains Longhouse will leave this weekend for their yearly Fall Pow-Wow at Camp Alfred Willson. For the first time, an open invitation is extended to all local fathers and sons, 6-9 years of age to attend the weekend camp-out. According to Longhouse Chief, Randy Clark, this is a real opportunity for a father and son to learn about the YMCA's Indian Guide Program. Fathers interested in Y-Indian Guide's and the camp-out can contact the YMCA Office.

Set Plowing Competition

VERNON CENTER, Minn. (AP) — The world's 38 best furrow turners begin competition today in the World Plowing Contest at Farmfest U.S.A.

Two Americans are entered in the two-day contest near this southern Minnesota community.

William A. Goetmoeller of Versailles, Ohio, and Alvin L. Wolf of Odell, Ill., will try to crack tradition for the U.S.

Goetmoeller thinks he knows why Americans have never won a championship or runner-up spot.

He says American agriculture is so big that farmers don't have time to be fussy and till practically every inch of cropland, as they do in European countries.

"In most of those countries they may work 60 to 80 acres on a farm," said Goetmoeller, 35. "They don't leave any tillable ground lying."

Rental Fee Escalates Into Duel

BOYNTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The cost of renting a small park from the Florida Department of Transportation is a token $1 a year. But no matter how hard he tries, City Finance Director Larry Artz can't seem to pay the bill.

In July, Artz sent the state a $1 check but it bounced back with a brief letter attached.

"The check is being returned to your offices for correction," said the July 27 memo. "The correct amount of the yearly rent is $1.04 which includes tax."

"Oh, my aching back," moaned Artz. "We are a city. We don't pay sales tax."

The check and letter were tossed into a file and forgotten—almost.

Then came a letter dated Aug. 30. It said:

"We have not yet received payment for the yearly rent. We realize you may have overlooked such a small amount."

The penny-ante war has now cost the taxpayers 16 cents in postage and left the city finance director to grumble: "Maybe I'll attach four pennies with tape to the old check."

Northwest Ohio Flood Conditions Ease Slightly

HICKSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio routes 18 and 2 remained covered with water and closed here today, but some 20 families evacuated earlier because of flooding were back in their homes.

"Thank goodness, we haven't had any more rain," a Defiance County deputy sheriff said Thursday night.

The evacuations were required in this northwestern Ohio area near the Indiana border after an unofficial seven inches of rain Wednesday night and early Thursday caused Gordon Creek to go over its banks.

Flood waters were as deep as five feet in some sections.

Auto Dealer Won't Sell Small Cars

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — "All of us have to live with our own consciences," says a Texas auto dealer who refuses to sell subcompact cars because he says they are unsafe.

"It's a car I don't want the responsibility of putting any of my friends or any of their children in," says Dewey Ray of Big Spring.

Ray has a Chrysler Corp. agency. He sells Chryslers, Imperials, Dodges and Plymouths — but not Dodge's Colt or Plymouth's Cricket, the subcompacts.

He has concluded after a review of an Insurance Institute study and a viewing of films testing the cars that they pose an extraordinary danger to driver and passengers in collisions with standard autos, he told an interviewer while here on a business trip.

His condemnation of subcompact cars is not confined to Chrysler products. He believes other autos weighing in the subcompact range of 1,600 to 2,000 pounds are equally unsafe.

"I think the thing that has surprised Chrysler Motors so much is that they can't persuade me that the amount of money I can make on those cars should be a compelling factor for me to sell them," says Ray, 48, married and the father of five children.

Tuesday in the Parish House and the Sunday School Board meets 8 p.m. also on Tuesday. Choir rehearsals will begin regular schedules. A recorder class will begin 11 a.m. Saturday.

Sunday morning at Good Shepherd United Methodist Church the sermon topic is "Our Ministry." Special music will be by the youth of the church for the evening service where the sermon theme is "When Christ And His Bride Return."

The Fun of Being Scolded" is the sermon theme for Sunday morning at First Presbyterian Church. Board of Trustees will meet 8 p.m. Monday in the lounge. Evening Circle plans to meet 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Session Room. The Session meets 8 p.m. in the lounge. The fall meeting of the Women's Assn. will be held 10 a.m. Thursday at the church. All ladies of the church are invited to attend the luncheon meeting.

Sunday at First Baptist Church the morning sermon topic is "God Does Give Up" and the evening topic is "What Do You Think About?" A baptismal service will be conducted Sunday evening.

Sunday Church School and Confirmation Class will be held 10:30 a.m. Sunday at Laurelville Trinity Church. The Flowers Brothers will sing during the 7:30 p.m. service. District WSCS plans to meet Wednesday at Nelsonville.

Participating in the worship services at Community United Methodist Church on Sunday morning will be the Chancel Choir at 10:45. A church-wide cleanup session will begin 7 p.m. Tuesday. Christian Fellowship meets 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lrry Plum.

Sunday morning at the Church of the Brethren the Rev. Clyde Albaugh has selected as the sermon theme "Why Should I Knock Myself Out?" Youth Fellowship will meet Monday in the church for officer election. Sunshine Class will hold a wiener roast Tuesday at Cross Mound State Park.

A Bunch

What do the terms nye, bevy, exaltation, cast and charm have in common? The "Maryland Conservationist," a publication of the Department of Natural Resources, reminds us that each is the proper designation for a group of wildlife.

If a hunter in the field began to talk of a nye of pheasants, an exaltation of larks or a charm of goldfinches, chances are his companions would send him back to camp to sober up. The terms, of hazy origin, can be confusing.

Geese in general are referred to as a plump. But if in flight they become a skein; when they land, they are a gaggle. Similar absurdities abound.

A falcon, for instance, is a falcon only if it is a female. The male is a tiercel and the young is a passenger. These things are being merely mentioned, not necessarily condoned.

Indeed, it takes a combination lexicographer-conservationist to know the difference, or to care. For the rest of us, more than a couple of anything is a bunch.

That may not be correct, but it is descriptive and a lot easier to remember.

Question Of 'Jewish Vote'

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
MONTREUX, SWITZERLAND
(KFS)—Twenty-five years ago, on a mountaintop near this bustling resort town on Lake Geneva, a handful of economists who believed in the free-market system formed the Mont Pelerin Society. Their aim, seemingly a forlorn one at the time, was to save West Europe from socialism. The Mission Impossible was accomplished later when one of the Mont Pelerin founders, West Germany's economic minister, Ludwig Erhard, took a daring chance and abolished the whole apparatus of central economic controls in his shattered country in 1948. The so-called German Miracle was a Mont Pelerin victory.

The 25th anniversary meeting of the society, held here in sight of its Mont Pelerin birthplace, opened with a controversial speech by Professor Milton Friedman of Chicago who addressed himself to the question of the Jewish intellectual who, despite the benefits that modern Israel has derived from capitalist sources, persists in supporting the parties of the collectivizing Left.

Known in America for his advocacy of such unorthodox ideas as the negative income tax and his theory that the wage demands of big labor unions are not a cause of inflation, Professor Friedman, who is serving a term as Mont Pelerin president, is not one to avoid prickly subjects. His insistence that the Jewish intellectual classes have supported the Left in disproportionately large numbers drew instant fire from two British economists, S. H. Frankel and Arthur Shenfield, who accused Friedman of posing a "non-question."

Professor Frankel was disturbed lest Friedman feed the flames of anti-Semitism; after all, the anti-Semites of the Left have frequently accused the Jews of exemplifying capitalist vices, while the hard Right has hit them from the other extreme, condemning them for taking an all-too-emphatic role in the formation of Leftist parties and revolutionary theory.

Friedman insisted that his observations were statistically correct and that no subject should be considered taboo to scientific investigation. What his British critics could not appreciate is that Friedman's subject for from opening up a "non-question," happens to be of particular relevance in the U.S. as the two major political parties contend for the crucial "Jewish vote" in the critical states of New York and California. For reasons that Professor Friedman failed to make plain to his British critics, some 85 per cent of America's Jews have in the past supported the Democratic Party, which has been the equivalent of the Social Democratic and Labor parties of Western Europe.

If Friedman had contended that the huge Jewish preference for the Democrats has been due in large measure to gratitude for President Franklin Roosevelt's opposition to Adolf Hitler, he might have mollified his critics. He might have made the important point that Democratic foreign policy, as developed by Roosevelt and Harry Truman, had not only been directed against Fascism; it had also, in the form of the Truman Doctrine, kept the Russians at bay. The fact that the Democrats had also supported socializing tendencies in domestic politics could have been considered an incidental matter by many Jews whose stake in the capitalist system is high.

Far from posing a "non-question," Friedman has performed a public service. In effect, he is asking Jews in America to reconsider their support of the Democratic Left now that the partisans of Sen. George McGovern have taken over the party of Roosevelt and Truman. There is no longer any reason for Jews to vote Democratic out of gratitude for past performances in foreign policy; the Republicans, following Nixon, have become the non-isolationist party. To Jewish vote this year, insofar as it results from a clear understanding of issues, will tell us just how many Jews have been Democratic for common-sense reasons rooted in foreign policy, and how many have preferred the Democrats because they have been more radical in economic matters.

Since the Mont Pelerin Society is an economic, not a political, society, Friedman would have been out of order if he had framed his question in partisan party terms. Nevertheless, his statistics bearing on the presumed Jewish list to the Left will be subjected to the test of the political, not the economic, marketplace in November. Instead of posing a non-question, the contentious Professor Friedman has touched on something of immediate relevance not only to America but to the safety of the whole West European world. If his British critics are concerned for the fate of Europe they have no reason to be perturbed.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

SATURDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You want to get everything now on a very solid and secure structure and it seems difficult to do so because delays and odd conditions are happening.

Nevertheless, if you use your good common sense and are persistent and do not argue with others results are better than you had thought possible. Keep poised.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Listen to good suggestions given you by those in positions of power and follow through on them, then you can advance more quickly. Get that bill paid before you have trouble with your credit. Show that you are dependable.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have fine new ideas and want to put them through quickly, which is fine, provided you study them more carefully first. A new contact may give some ideas that are pure fantasy, so discount them. Show you are clever.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have much work to do, so be sure you do not run out for pleasure just because others are pressuring you to do so. An attachment is out for a fight, but don't fall into the trap. A calm attitude is best.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take care you do not start an argument with one who is a valuable associate. A spirit of cooperation is best with everyone, then this becomes a fine and productive day, p.m. for you. Have fun with a good friend in p.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able now to get those duties performed that have been difficult for you to handle in the past. Spend some time taking health treatments, exercise that is most helpful. A good evening for the theater.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are able to have the recreation you want but it is wise to spend wisely instead of extravagantly. Use a more gentle approach with the one you love. Get the results you want and be happier.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Instead of arguing at home, get busy and make those improvements that are necessary there and all works to your benefit. Entertaining at home would not work out well now, so postpone. Not an ideal day to shop for furnishings, either.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to exercise care with regular allies if you are to have more harmonious relationships with them. Go over statements for errors and see to it that they are letter perfect. Relax in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Handling monetary matters wisely is possible now as well as finding the right system for advancing in the near future. The adviser you trust is not thinking very clearly today, so avoid. Use own good judgment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You feel upset and want to make radical changes, but this would be wrong and you could ruin what is really an ideal set-up. It is better to stay home than to go out socially now. Enjoy closest ties.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study your goals well and know what has to be done to reach them more quickly and successfully. See if you have been using the right methods. Consult an adviser instead of some good friend who may be well-meaning, but not have the know-how.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Perfect day to handle those civic affairs that are just your cup of tea and to get the right results. That debt can now be paid and you can stop worrying it to death. Show others that you are a friendly person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those charming young people who is apt to be very timid early in life, so will need encouragement and praise to bring out the fine qualities and become a part of the social life in school and later in business. The education should be slanted along practical or business lines, and the importance of paying attention to details should be taught. Sports are a must here.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Many readers write to me about their confusion about low back pain and slipped discs. With a better understanding of the anatomy of the spine the problem of discs may be clarified.

The entire spine, from the neck to the tail bone, or coccyx, consists of 33 bones, or vertebrae. For greater mobility in the body, each one of the vertebrae is separated from the next by a firm band of protective tissue. These inter-vertebral discs cushion and absorb shock to the spine. They also protect the bony edges from each other and prevent the wear and destruction caused by constant movement and turning of the body.

Sometimes, after an injury to the spine and the surrounding muscles, one or more of these elastic discs may become displaced from its normal position. It can result, for example, from lifting a heavy weight, or from severe automobile injury.

The most dominant symptom, of course, is severe back pain. The location of the pain depends on the part of the spinal cord that is involved. Slipped disc in the neck will cause a distribution of pain different from that of a displaced disc in the upper or lower back.

There are many and varied other causes for low back pain. All of them must be carefully ruled out by intensive study. Special tests known as myelograms are performed, using dyes and X-ray to pinpoint the exact spot of the suspected slipped, or herniated, disc.

Many readers want to know if surgery is the only way to cure this condition. Most often, intensive conservative treatment is first used by the orthopedist and the neurologist, a team closely involved in the study of this condition.

Special forms of traction take the pressure off the slipped disc, allowing it to return to its proper position.

Gentle, regulated exercise and rest, with special back and neck braces, are extremely beneficial.

A word of caution at this point is important. A homemade diagnosis of low back pain is frequently brought to the attention of spine manipulators and heroic masseurs. Too often, a simple backproblem that is undiagnosed by a physician then becomes a troublesome and complicated

Any more taxes on anything.

From these and other tribulations of spirit or flesh, deliver us. Amen.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the administration's greatest tasks, a frustrating one to date, is to convince the American people that they are better off than a year ago.

Official government statistics tend to support this contention, and administration spokesmen have not forgotten to sprinkle the figures liberally throughout their statements. The effect, however, has been questionable.

In all levels of business and personal finance there can be found a feeling that the hard figures are artificial flavoring for an unappetizing mixture of inflation, unemployment and social unrest.

To a great degree, the administration itself is responsible for the rejection of the official statistics because it has used them defensively and sometimes without an understanding of the modern mood.

Expectations are higher today, part of the unfolding American dream of economic progress on every front, private and public. The idyll is displayed constantly before the public by media, public officials and others.

Moreover, government has more than ever committed itself to actively speeding the process. It promises more, more is expected.

As increasing numbers achieve some measure of financial success, the quality of life rises in their list of priorities. A clean environment, social justice, the dignity of life become elements of their broadened outlook.

Statistics do not measure these, and that appears to be a major reason for the credibility problem involved with those old sets of figures that are used to measure progress.

Gross National Product, unemployment, cost of living, and other statistical series fail to tell the complete story. They are not suspected of being adulterated; but they are considered to be incomplete measures.

The statistics show that in the past year people built their savings, reduced their debts, found more jobs. They bought new homes at a near-record rate. Their incomes rose in real dollars.

Does this mean that people are better off? The mind records the claim, but instinct questions it.

20 YEARS AGO

Circleville City council geared its regular session to take up the controversial state proposal to relocate Route 23 around the western edge of the city.

School began for Circleville students on Sept. 8. The first day of classes was brief with dismissal at noon. The City teachers met in the afternoon to organize themselves for the coming year and the new cafeteria in the high school building was not put into operation until Thursday of the first week.

The City of Circleville ended the month of August with a total of $83,447 in its treasury. The city spent $19,833.33 and made $23,181.97. Included in the report was a sum of $1,700 in parking meter violations and $276.97 in amusement taxes.

The latest fall styles in men's shoes were sold at the low price of $6.95 per pair at the Merit Shoe Store.

Five Pickaway County schools to begin a six-man football program for the 1952 season. Jackson Twp., Ashville, Pickaway, Walnut and Williamsport made up the five team league. All the games were played before standing room crowds in the afternoons, since the football fields were not equipped with bleachers or lights.

Three local drivers were out front in racing events held at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. George Sparks, Forrest Storts, and Dock Holder all won events before a crowd of 1,000 race fans.

A total of 2,074 youngsters jammed into Circleville City Schools for the first week of school for the 1952-53 term. The figure represented a record high and more students were expected for the second week.

The Circleville Tiger gridders won their first football tilt of the season defeating Holy Rosary, 32-6. Tom Elsea, Fred Davis, Don Skinner and Jay Curry all scored in the game.

ASHVILLE HARRISON PTA The Ashville-Harrison Parent Teacher Assn. held its first meeting recently with past president Sheila Kirk presiding. She turned over to new president Frances Crites the materials pertaining to the offices and projects which were completed during the summer.

On Sept. 12, Mrs. Crites held an organizational meeting. At this time she explained the duties of each officer. Executive board members this year are: Mrs. Frances Crites, president; Mrs. Barbara Kazee, vice president; Richard Groff, treasurer; Barbara Peabone, corresponding secretary; Susan Neal, recording secretary.

The PTA will meet Sept. 21. The program at that time will consist of a "meet the teachers" program, PTA Queen and court selection; 4-H Club Dog Demonstration. The library committee thanked the Ashville Kiwanis Club for the new book shelves.

Christian Service of the Trinity Methodist Church met Thursday evening with Mrs. Hugh Poling and Mrs. Orville Kempton as hosts. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Winfred Dumm.

Opening song was, "The Lord My Shepherd" and was followed with a prayer by the president.

It was decided to have the annual Turkey Supper in November. Mrs. Wilson Ross was in charge of program, led by the song "Stepping in the Light." Scripture was read from 3rd chapter of John.

The topic was, "Light" and Miss Frances McClelland gave a reading. Closing song, "The Light of World is Jesus". Refreshments were served to 15 members.

Miss Mary Barclay of Bethel was Saturday morning visitors of Mrs. Nell Swackhammer.

Male Steno Gets Chance At Job

HONOLULU (AP) — Kirby Lewellen's determination is paying off. He's starting to work Monday as a stenographer.

"I feel like I've infiltrated the ranks," the 25-year-old Lewellen said Wednesday.

Lewellen had complained only the day before that he was a victim of a kind of male chauvinism in reverse because every time he applied for a job as a stenographer "they laughed."

But, he said, only hours after a news story about his search for a job was published, "I got a couple of offers," and took a job with an advertising agency.

Handicap Fails To Dampen Spirits Of 2-Year-Old Boy

WEST LIBERTY, Ohio (AP) — Someday little Andy Detwiler will realize how handicapped he is. Or maybe just how handicapped he's supposed to be.

But for now, two-year-old Andy doesn't seem very affected by either the accident two months ago that cost him both his arms . . . or its consequences.

"We're constantly buoyed by his attitude," said his mother, Mrs. Thomas Detwiler. "He's so matter of fact, it doesn't bother him."

Andy lost both his arms on July 18, when he was pulled into a grain auger on his father's farm two miles south of here. Now back on the farm after a month in Children's Hospital in Columbus, he's simply gone about the business of learning to do without arms.

Hired Killers After Police In Columbus?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus police are tracking down tips that hired killers are in Columbus to eliminate narcotics officers and help clear the way for a crime syndicate takeover of Columbus drug traffic.

Detective Maj. Lloyd Forbus, chief of the detective bureau, said he had an idea how many of the killers were in town and where they came from but he refused to disclose what he knew.

He said two high level narcotics officers have received threatening phone calls, and special steps had been taken to insure their safety.

Forbus said he had reason to believe the threats and information on paid assassins had nothing to do with the murder Aug. 24 of Patrolman Joseph Edwards.

Edwards, who was working against drug offenders, was shot from ambush through the window of his police cruiser. Two men have been charged in that slaying.

Forbus said he believed the threats on drug officers were part of a concerted effort by organized crime to take over Columbus' illegal drug market.

"They could be coming from all directions," he said. "But they have to have a proper atmosphere in which to do business. They've got to have a receptive group of people willing to bury their wares and we know that is present.

"They've also got to have an ineffective police department," Forbus said, adding that the way to make police ineffective is to threaten and bribe them.

"That's the way they do it and it isn't working here," he said. "We will not be intimidated."

Evening Circle Program Relates Life In Dominica

Officers for the coming year were elected during the recent meeting of Evening Circle of Calvary United Methodist Church in the home of Mrs. Mark DeLong, 662 E. Mount St. Attending were 19 members and two guests.

For devotions Mrs. Harry Betz read Scripture and an article from Women's Day magazine entitled "A Woman's Conversation With God" and concluded with prayer.

Mrs. Ned Dresbach presided at the business meeting. She told members dates to remember including Rally Day, Sept. 24th; District Annual meeting at Washington C. H.

OES Observes Family Night

Circleville Chapter 90, Order of the Eastern Star Family Night was observed Tuesday with a carry-in dinner preceding the regular meeting of the chapter.

The following Past Matrons and Patrons were presented during the meeting: Beverly Currence, Marie Bennett, Margaret Shane, Gladys Shepler, Mary E. Radcliffe, Elaine Bowman, Bonnie L. Rector, Dwight Rector, Walden Reichelderfer, and Clarence Radcliffe. Also presented was Joseph Peters, Knight of York Cross of Honor.

Mary Elizabeth Radcliffe is the new State President of OES District Association. This is the first time anyone from Circleville chapter has been elected to this office.

Memorial services were conducted for worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio, Zella Watkins, and Past Patron Kenneth Shepler of Circleville Chapter 90, Clarence E. Radcliffe, accompanied by Elaine Bowman, sang "Manson Over The Hilltop" in tribute to Mr. Shepler.

After the regular business transactions, it was announced a Stock Sale Dinner will be held Sept. 27th. The next meeting will be Sept. 26th at which time initiatory work will be observed and Pauline Cook, Grand Page will be honored.

At the close of the evening everyone enjoyed a "School Days" program by participating as pupils wearing big red bows. It was conducted by Elaine Bowman and she concluded with a treasure hunt.

Guests from other chapters were Mary Stout of Fargo, N. D., and Ada Johnson of Mt. Sterling Chapter, Ohio.

Morning Circle Has Program On Christianity

Mrs. Cary Shasteen, program leader, of Morning Circle, Calvary United Methodist Church, used as her topic during the recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Marion DeLong, "Power In Christian Living."

Articles read were, "The Lady and The Wildcat" and "Man On The Road," accenting the power of prayer.

The most recent portrait of Christ was discussed as compared with other versions. The newest is a favorite of the youth. Mrs. Shasteen concluded the program by reading the poem "The Weaver."

President, Mrs. Dale DeLong, conducted the business session. The Do-It-Yourself project money, it was noted, will be due at the October meeting.

Members were urged to read the book of St. John during September. Mrs. Earl Millrons, secretary of spiritual life said that "if all the Bibles were to be destroyed except the book of St. John there would be enough to lead us to eternal life."

Betty Crocker coupons are to be given to help purchase a new kidney machine. Members were also reminded of the Christian Women's Club Meeting to be held from 12:45 to 2 p.m. Sept. 20th.

Rally Day at the church will be Sept. 24th and plans for Guest Night in October are being made.

Hostesses, Mrs. DeLong and Mrs. Francis Davis, served a lunch of gelatin cake, cookies and coffee and iced tea.

Mrs. James Salyer will be the program leader for the October meeting and hostesses will be Mrs. Millrons and Mrs. Henry McCain.

New Member Welcomed By Salem WSCS

WSCS of Salem United Methodist Church, met in the home of Mrs. Darl McAfee for its September meeting.

Mrs. Gene Kerns led devotions. Several readings were given by Mrs. Kerns and Mrs. Shirley Hutchinson. Members sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" followed by "The Lord's Prayer."

During the business meeting, members voted to give the profit from serving lunch at a farm sale recently to Hill View Retirement Center in Portsmouth.

Mrs. Shirley Hutchinson was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Marie Boldoser won the traveling flower fund gift.

During the social hour games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Relis Hildenbrand and Mrs. Vera Miller. Refreshments were served to 13 members and one guest by the hostess and Mrs. Richard Hildenbrand.

The October meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Gene Kerns, with Mrs. Marge Evans assisting.

WHERE ARE WE? — Was the subject of discussion at St. Philip's Episcopal Church Wednesday evening. Shown preparing for the discussion are from the left: Mrs. J. F. Moorehead of Middletown, diocesan president, executive board of Episcopal Women;

Mrs. Fred Howell, president of the Women of St. Philips; Mrs. Albert Bishop, Book of Remembrance chairman and Mrs. Robert H. Rabold, regional ECW chairman, both of Columbus. In her talk Mrs. Moorehead said that women of the church should find out where their responsibilities are and to meet the challenge. Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. William Parker, Mrs. David Allardyce, Mrs. Fred Howell and Miss Margaret Mattinson.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Doctor Hesitates To Give The Pill

DEAR ABBY: A rather unstable 14-year-old girl has asked me to provide her with birth control pills. That this girl is having intercourse is a fact, and I know she would continue whether she had the pills or not.

Without preventative measures she will surely get pregnant, and in her circumstances she couldn't get an abortion because it's illegal in Nevada, and she is poor, so there would be another unwanted, innocent child.

So, if you were in my place, what would you do?

ON THE SPOT
DEAR ON: I would consider the options, and choose the lesser of the evils which is obvious. Since the girl is relying on you for help, I hope you realize that she desperately needs counseling. I also hope that you have explained that while "the pill" prevents pregnancy, it offers no protection whatsoever against venereal disease.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband and I built our dreamhouse. We designed it ourselves, wanting something different from the run-of-the-mill floor plans. We also searched far and wide for our furnishings.

We now have a very original and unusual home. It's so unusual, in fact, that we have had a steady stream of visitors who come by just to see it, and get "ideas" for their own homes. Some have had the nerve to take notes, and ask us about where we got this and that, and how much did it cost? I mean, everything from our light fixtures, hardware, carpeting, draperies, wallpaper to our lamps and furniture.

Abby, please don't tell us that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. This goes beyond imitation. It is more like "stealing."

Thanks for letting us express ourselves. Print this, but don't use our names or town.

HATES CHISLERS

DEAR HATES: One is more or less helpless against friends who turn out to be copycats. But if you permit strangers to tour your home, you're lucky if all they steal are "ideas."

DEAR ABBY: There is a very pushy woman in our town who greets all the men with a kiss on the lips. I have watched her go from man to man pollinating and contaminating at least 20 men, one right after the other. (Some of these men she hardly knows.)

My husband is one of her victims. I have told him he did not have to hold still for a kiss like that, but he insists there is nothing he can do about it.

Abby, when people come at me with an unwelcome kiss, I quickly extend my hand to indicate that I will shake hands, but want no kisses, and I can't see why my husband couldn't do the same. What do you think?

HATES KISSING STRANGERS

DEAR HATES: When the kissing creature approaches, your husband could turn his head, so her kiss would catch him on the cheek instead of on the lips. And if she tried again, he could take his cue from the Good Book and turn the other cheek.

Little Girl Has 'Family' In Death

NEW YORK (AP) — They gave Shirley Robinson a decent funeral, a compassionate foot note added by neighbors who were touched by her suffering, shocked at her death and unwilling to let her go to a pauper's grave.

Shirley's unclaimed body lay for a week in the city morgue after it was discovered that the nine-year-old child had been beaten and then drowned in her East Harlem apartment bathtub.

A mortician donated his services and a gravesite and about $1,000 was raised toward the cost of the funeral for the girl who was victimized in life by mental retardation, crippling and poverty.

"Let not Shirley be buried without family and love," intoned the Rev. Dominick Bistella who conducted the funeral attended by 500 people Wednesday. "She is not without family and love, for she has a big family here."

Her only known family was her mother, 40-year-old Irene Robinson, who was charged with her daughter's homicide and placed under psychiatric observation.

Mrs. Robinson reportedly told police she drowned her daughter to save the child from starvation.

MINI-MESSAGE

By CECIL SAGRAVES
A Husband's Love

Do you love your wife? It has been said that a husband said to his wife, "I love you more than the hills and more than the flowers of the fields."

But, what is real Christian love? The Scripture says "Husbands, love your wives even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it." (Ephesians 5:25)

The Scripture further states that husbands ought to love their wives as their own bodies.

In reality when a husband mistreats his wife he is abusing himself, because the Bible says "He that loveth his wife loveth himself." (Ephesians 5:28)

A man should be willing to break all apron strings that tie him to the homeplace and join himself to his wife. The Scripture says that a husband and wife are one flesh. How could you be any closer than being one flesh. You can't!

Let no man, or anything for that matter separate you and your companion. Death is the only exception to the rule of husband and wife separating.

Catholic Divorcees Still On 'Outs'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A Youngstown, Ohio, man writes: "I'd do most anything to be given the opportunity to once again be a 'complete' Catholic. I thought I had that chance after reading your column, but my pastor gave me a polite, but firm, 'No.'"

The fact is that the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, through its president, has called a halt to a procedure initiated in some dioceses allowing divorced and remarried Catholics in "good conscience" cases to return to receiving Communion.

John Cardinal Krol, president of the bishops, said the Vatican is studying the question, but has made clear that dioceses "are not to introduce procedures that are contrary to present discipline."

Until this admonition was issued late last month, several dioceses had quietly initiated steps to restore the sacraments to divorced and remarried Catholics, who affirm a "good conscience" about it and believe their previous marriages invalid, even though unable for technical reasons to get them officially annulled.

After Cardinal Krol's warning, however, the special procedures apparently were being suspended.

Under existing Church canons, Catholics who remarry after divorce without Church annulment of previous marriages are automatically excommunicated — barred from the sacraments. There have been estimates that about five million American Catholics are in such a status.

"The Church is not insensitive to the anxiety and anguish of the individuals involved," Cardinal Krol said. But he added that "grave doctrinal implications, including the indissolubility of marriage and fidelity to the Gospel of Christ are involved."

He said the Church must offer its "ministry of compassion, mercy and reconciliation," but also must provide its "ministry of correction. The Church must be faithful to her children by recalling them to fidelity to Christ and the Gospel."

Although the problem is being studied, Church authorities "do not venture any ready solutions," he said, and "it would be rash to conclude that a study must necessarily lead to change of principles or procedure."

Meanwhile, he said, a recent Vatican letter to the bishops' conference made clear that the

Ann-Margret May Fade

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A year ago, Ann-Margret was undergoing the effects of a show business career that had suddenly turned hot.

"I've been feeling so much tension, such pressure," the Swedish-born entertainer said.

"It's a definite signal. I'll work through the year because I've got commitments. Then I'll quit show business. At least for a year. Maybe forever."

Now, at 31, Ann-Margret may be forced to end her career.

On Sunday night she fell 22 feet from a scaffolding on which she was to make her entrance at a Lake Tahoe hotel-casino.

She suffered five facial fractures, a broken jaw and a broken left arm. She underwent facial surgery Wednesday at UCLA Medical Center.

Her doctor said the operation was a success. He predicted complete recovery, but he said he didn't know how long it would take.

The accident threatened a colorful career marked by early triumph, a downhill slide, then peak achievement with an Oscar nomination for a sex-charged role in "Carnal Knowledge."

Kennedy Gives Big Boost To McGovern Campaign

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two days of greeting large, enthusiastic crowds with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy has given George McGovern's uphill presidential campaign a badly needed aura of momentum.
From Minneapolis Monday night to the heart of Philadelphia Wednesday, the McGovern Kennedy team encountered the most consistently uplifting gatherings the Democratic presidential campaign has seen since the California primary.
A major question, however, is how much the new life in the campaign is due to Kennedy, the acknowledged superstar among Democratic leaders, and how much will remain after he leaves McGovern's side tonight.
A related issue, in view of the considerable distance McGovern must make up, is how valuable this sort of campaigning is compared with last week's schedule of lower-keyed events aimed largely at producing television coverage.
Though Kennedy is credited with much of the added enthusiasm surrounding the McGovern campaign this week, the cheers for the South Dakota senator have been consistently louder and more sustained than those for his Massachusetts colleague.
While Kennedy's rhythmic cadences have been more forceful than the milder McGovern manner, the Democratic nominee displayed more oomph than usual as he recited his now familiar litany — the vow to bring all U.S. troops and prisoners home from Vietnam, to "never again" commit them to defend a dictatorship and the scorn of the Republican slogan of "four more years."
One immediate dividend of the trip with Kennedy was renewed backing for McGovern from old line party leaders in Chicago, Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia. Another was the increased exposure, with the large crowds plainly visible on the evening network-television news shows.
But that won't happen every day, and some McGovern advisers doubt the value of more than a day or two of this sort of thing at a time.

Readers of Gothic type fiction will rejoice in three new readable novels just received at the library. "A Falcon for a Queen" by Catherine Gaskin has its setting in the Scottish Highlands. Some strange compulsion impels a young girl to seek out a mysterious and embittered grandfather. What happens when she arrives in Cluain, Northern Scotland, provides a tale of love and hatred in which the secrets of the past enmesh the present members of an old family.

Constance Heaven's, "The House of Kuragin" is a stereotyped, but readable gothic romance. Amariis Weston accepts the position of governess to a small boy in a wealthy Russian family. She falls in love with the Count's younger brother, but believes him to be in love with his beautiful sister-in-law. After much confusion and misunderstanding, all ends satisfactorily. The mountain forest of Germany in the 1890's are the setting for suspense and romance in popular writer, Victoria Holt's new novel, "On the Night of the Seventh Moon."

"The Man Who Loved Cat Dancing" by Marilyn Durham will appeal to both readers of Westerns and historical fiction. This is an engrossing novel about the Wyoming Territory in the 1880's. Cat Dancing is the beautiful Shoshone Indian girl who had been the wife of the former U.S. Army officer, Jay Grobart, newly out of prison. The story opens as he and his friends are about to pull off a train robbery. Their plans are disrupted by a woman fleeing from an outraged husband. The flight of the fugitive into the wilderness leads them to the Indian encampment where Jay Grobart's and Cat Dancing's children may be found.

Howard Fast's "Hessian" is a story of love and the futility of war centering on small incidents in the American Revolution.

"I Am Mary Tudor" by Hilda Lewis presents the drama of the days of Henry VIII from the viewpoint of his daughter, Hilda Lewis is an outstanding writer of historical fiction because of her thorough research. She says of her characters, "I know what they did; I must find out why."

Sybil Leek, self-styled witch and writer, talks of growing up in a large English family, her work in military hospitals, and of the famous personalities who have been her clients. "My Life in Astrology" is the name of her new autobiography.

Howard Teichmann, close friend and fellow playwright has written an entertaining and affectionate biography of George S. Kaufman. In "George S. Kaufman: An Intimate Portrait," Teichmann draws, not only on his own recollections, but those of others like Richard Rogers, Helen Hayes, and Harpo Marx to help reveal a man of enormous paradoxes.

For mystery fans, the following titles are new: "Maigret and the Madwoman" by Georges Simenon; "The Players and the Game" by Julian Symons; "The Case of the Fenced in Woman" by Erle Stanley Gardner; "The Fall Guy" by Ritchie Perry; and "Death to the Landlords" by Ellis Peters.

Port Authority Gets 17.6 Acres Of Land

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Final papers were signed Wednesday to give the Cleveland-Cuyahoga Port Authority 17.6 acres of waterfront land presently owned by the Penn Central Transportation Co.

The authority will pay $2,250,000 for the parcel by borrowing the money from Cleveland Trust Co. on a 20-year loan at six per cent interest.

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1.2 million members of the National Education Association vote this fall on a new constitution and bylaws that are stirring dissent among members and allies.

Opponents of the new documents contend that the outcome of the November mail-ballot election will determine whether the NEA continues its "gradual drift toward unionism." The organization once limited itself to the role of a professional devoted to such matters as research, curriculum and ethics.

Currently within the NEA: —Dr. Sam Lambert, a strong critic of the proposed constitution which would limit his powers, has announced his retirement date as the organization's executive director.

—Some state NEA organizations are fighting the new constitution which opponents say would weaken the state associations and smaller local units for the benefit of larger urban units.

—Organizations affiliated or associated with the NEA are unhappy about a proposal that 75 per cent of their membership also must be NEA members. Some are talking of dropping ties with the NEA.

"The NEA, which has served as a unifying influence in the past, has designed a constitution that may split us asunder," said Eugene P. Smith, president of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, a national affiliate of NEA with 45,000 members.

John Ryor, president of the Michigan Education Association and a strong supporter of the new constitution said he didn't agree with Smith's evaluation, but added that some NEA affiliates appeal to wider membership than classroom teachers who make up the bulk of NEA's membership.

Some NEA members speculate that Lambert, executive director of the giant teaching organization for the past five years, negotiated an early retirement because of displeasure with the proposed constitution, called Con-Con, and what he considers the steady drift of the NEA toward a structure resembling a trade labor union.

The NEA in recent years has become more aggressive in negotiating teachers' pay and other bread-and-butter issues as the smaller American Federation of Teachers challenged its right to bargain for teachers.

Last June, Lambert sharply criticized the proposed constitution and the "drift toward unionism."

After hearing Lambert's speech, delegates to the June NEA convention beat down all attempts to amend the proposed documents and approved them 4,154 to 2,175.

The NEA's executive committee last week announced that it had interpreted the "overwhelming affirmative vote as a mandate to support the proposed constitution... and therefore strongly urges each NEA member to support the decision."

16 American Casualties In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command Thursday reported 16 American casualties in Vietnam last week, including one man killed in action, four dead from nonhostile causes, three missing or captured and eight wounded.

It was one of the lowest U.S. casualty counts since the North Vietnamese offensive began five and a half months ago.

However, reported South Vietnamese casualties were the highest in a month and the Saigon command claimed the biggest enemy death toll since mid-June.

It reported 3,449 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed and 99 captured last week, while government losses were put at 638 men killed, 2,204 wounded and 97 missing.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American—45,857 killed in action, 303,380 wounded, 10,269 dead from nonhostile causes, 1,785 missing.

South Vietnamese—154,963 killed, 405,450 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—886,065 killed.

Affluent Teens Good Subject For Romney

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Today's affluent teen-agers was Housing Secretary George Romney's subject during a talk with parents at a Portland high school, and it was underscored by an interruption.

While Romney was talking on Wednesday, the public address system came to life and Romney had to stop.

The PA announcement was that the lights of a pupil's car were on.

Of particular concern to Lambert are provisions he said would create a very powerful president and substantially "reduce the status, prestige and authority" of the executive director, in his job.

Under the present constitution, NEA presidents are elected for one-year terms and may not seek re-election. The new documents give the president a two-year term and the right to seek reelection twice.

Lambert said that the proposed constitution would drive out 17 national affiliates and 11 associated organizations with 400,000 members of which, he said, probably half are NEA members.

The proposal that rankles the affiliates and associate organization is that 75 per cent of their membership also must be NEA members.

Affiliates now must have officers who are NEA members. There is no similar requirement for associated organizations.

Although most NEA affiliates and associates say they have no intentions of cutting formal ties unless forced out, six already have made plans to move out of NEA headquarters and seven have purchased land for possible new offices.

William L. Pharis, executive secretary of the National Association of Elementary School principals, with 23,936 members, said, "We have been critical of Con-Con since the outset. We obviously will be forced out. We can't live with the 75 per cent requirement."

As a group, the classroom teachers, who represent close to 900,000 of the NEA membership, have supported the new constitution and the trend toward more aggressive contract negotiations.

Pharis said "a militant breed of classroom teachers which is increasing in numbers has gained control of the machinery and is making NEA a classroom teachers union."

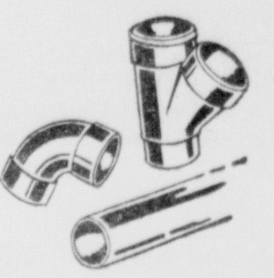

Ryor, commenting on Pharis' statement, said: "He doesn't have control anymore. He is absolutely right. I think for the most part NEA is more a teacher-oriented advocate. I don't think administrators can speak forcibly for teacher concerns. Yet a number of state organizations are still controlled by administrators and there is no question that the impetus for change is coming from the large urban locals."

Ryor said that "historically, criticism of NEA has been that it is largely controlled by administrators. The new documents will give the classroom teachers a greater voice in NEA's governance."

Under the new constitution local units would be able to determine who is eligible for membership in their unit, making it possible to exclude supervisory employees or administrators.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

The best football fans in the country have to come from Pickaway County.

This is our honest opinion and feel it's time they were given some well deserved recognition.

With the 1972 season swinging into the second week of action, the youthful gridders already have had some moments of glory with a lot more to come before the curtain rings down in November.

But what about the faithful followers who gulp down a quick dinner, load the family into the car and take off for the main event of the evening where, win or lose, they're in the stands rooting for their kids.

This not only applies when the teams are playing on their home turf but on Friday nights caravans of cars leave Pickaway County to make sure the boys have solid backing when they invade the domains of the opponents.

We have been to ball games on the road where our fans turn out in greater number than the home crowd and this really gives the kids a lift.

"Neither rain nor snow nor hail or sleet will deter the mailman" is the creed of the post office and this goes double for the Pickaway Countians.

No matter what the weather, they show up — They may get wet but their spirits never get dampened.

Several cities have had to discontinue night football due to riotous actions of the crowd — We don't believe this will ever happen in Pickaway County.

The conduct of the fans in this area is beyond reproach which is a big help to law enforcement and school officials who are in attendance at the games.

So to all the faithful followers — Give yourself a pat on the back — You deserve it.

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville will pull out all the stops when the Tigers tangle with the big, strong Vikings . . . Logan Elm will blaze a new trail against the Pioneers of Jonathon Alder . . . The Eagles won't fly high when they meet the Mustangs . . . Ohio State will get off to a good start against Iowa . . . The Bengals will be anything but Patriotic with New England . . . Packers will spoil the Browns opener.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Pirates Continue Bid For NL Pennant

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that the Pittsburgh Pirates are 15 games ahead of the pack, Roberto Clemente will go out on a limb.

Yes, he thinks his team will win the National League East.

"I think we'll clinch first," said Clemente after socking two hits to lead the Pirates over the runner-up Chicago Cubs 5-2 Thursday.

"If we don't do it in St. Louis, I think we'll do it in New York."

It's a good bet that the runaway Pirates will win their third straight division pennant in one of those two cities within the next week or so.

Any combination of Pittsburgh victories or Chicago losses totaling three will secure the title.

While the Pirates roared toward another pennant by slashing their "magic" number to three, Clemente himself zeroed in on a personal magic number—the 3,000 career hit level.

Clemente collected eight hits as the Pirates swept a three-game series from their closest competitors and now is 14 shy of the 3,000-hit plateau.

In Thursday's other National League games, the Houston Astros defeated the San Diego Padres 10-6 and the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Montreal Expos 6-2.

Only two games were played in the American League Thursday night. The Milwaukee Brewers nipped the Cleveland Indians 4-3 in 15 innings and the California Angels beat the Texas Rangers 4-0.

The AL East race picks up steam again tonight after a day of rest. New York and Baltimore, tied for third place 1½ games off the pace, start a three-game series in Yankee Stadium while the first-place Boston Red Sox host the Cleveland Indians and the second-place Detroit Tigers, one game behind, visit Milwaukee.

Winning Pirate pitcher Bob Moose gave up only three hits before being literally knocked out of the box. Moose left the game in the seventh inning when Jose Cardenal ripped a single off the pitcher's right hand. Ramon Hernandez finished for the Pirates.

The Astros kept their flickering hopes alive in the NL West with their triumph Thursday. They picked up a half-game on idle Cincinnati and now trail the front-running Reds by seven games.

Trailing 5-0 after a five-run Padre outburst in the top of the third inning, the Astros came back with six runs in their half.

in a rally keyed by Tommy Helms and Rich Chiles. Each knocked in two runs with singles.

Bob Gibson notched his 16th victory with a seven-hitter to lead St. Louis over Montreal.

George Scott raced home with the winning run when Cleveland catcher Jerry Moses threw wild past third on a pick-off attempt in the 15th inning to give Milwaukee its victory over the Indians. The marathon affair lasted four hours and 31 minutes.

The victory gave Milwaukee a four-game sweep, the first such accomplishment in the Brewers' four-year history.

Clyde Wright pitched a two-run lead California over Texas. He had a no-hitter until Joe Lovitto singled in the sixth inning.

Big Ten Football Opens Saturday; Bucks Favored

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Ten plunges into its 77th football season tomorrow with Woody Hayes' Ohio State Buckeyes rated the title favorite in what looms a brisk conference race among a goodly array of solid contenders.

A sho-in choice over down-trodden Iowa at Columbus, Ohio, Hayes' 22nd Ohio State edition is reminiscent of his sophomore wonder club which captured the 1968 national crown.

Saturday's opening round includes three other conference contests and a pair of non-league jousts.

Defending champion Michigan, minus 11 starters from the Rose Bowl club upset by Stanford 13-12 for an overall 11-1 record, is host to Northwestern, whose 1971 Big Ten runner-up team also was ridden by graduation.

Two other highly-regarded contenders, Michigan State and Illinois, clash at Champaign, Ill., with MSU's Spartans a slight favorite.

In the opening day's fourth conference game, new Minnesota coach Cal Stoll, succeeding Murray Warmath, takes his Gophers to Indiana which appears capable of improving its ninth-place finish in 1971.

The two other Big Ten schools bow in against outside opponents. Highly-rated Purdue is host to Bowling Green of the Mid-American Conference, Wisconsin, scenting its first winning season under John Jardine, entertains independent Northern Illinois University.

Ohio State, starting six sophomores, is rated a four-touchdown favorite over Iowa whose 52-21 beating by the Buckeyes in last season's opener triggered coach Frank Lauterbur's first Hawkeye club to a dismal 1-10 record.

"Woody Hayes has some tremendous running backs and I'm sure he wants to utilize that strength," said Lauterbur. "But I think we're ready to open the season after a good fall practice session."

Michigan, starting a black more quarterback in Den-an-kin, is picked by three to down over Northwestern which unveils senior Todd Somers as quarterback successor to passing ace Maurie Daigneau said relies upon almost an entirely new defensive unit.

See Lively Grid Race In AFC This Year

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A good way to describe the division races in the National Football League's American Conference this year is to call them lively.

It might be better to call them torrid.

There will be down-to-the-wire battles for division championships in the East, Central and West and when it's all over the winners, at least in this fearless forecaster's peerless prognostication, will be: Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Kansas City.

The Miami Dolphins and the New York Jets will fight Baltimore's Colts tooth-and-nail in the East and if Johnny Unitas doesn't remain healthy, it's good bye Colts.

Cincinnati will make it tough for the Steelers in the Central Division but Pittsburgh shall overcome. And the Oakland Raiders as well as the San Diego Chargers will challenge Kansas City's Chiefs all the way. The San Diego Chargers? Yes, the Chargers should be the surprise team in pro football this season.

So, with considerable trepidation, here's how this crystalball gazer, sees the final standings:

East Division

Baltimore Colts
Miami Dolphins
New York Jets
New England Patriots
Buffalo Bills

Central Division

Pittsburgh Steelers
Cincinnati Bengals
Cleveland Browns
Houston Oilers

West Division

Kansas City Chiefs
Oakland Raiders
San Diego Chargers
Denver Broncos

There are many reasons why Baltimore shouldn't win in the East. And just as many reasons why the Dolphins should.

But it will all boil down to desire—the desire of Johnny U to go out in a blaze of glory. And that's why the Colts should represent the East Division in ne playoffs.

There's no argument about Miami's prowess—Bob Griese at quarterback, along with runners such as Jim Kiick, Larry Csonka and Mercury Morris plus the pass-catching abilities of Paul Warfield. And the Miami defense is going to be better.

So why Baltimore? Strictly a visceral pick.

The Jets if Joe Namath stays healthy, may make it mighty interesting in the East. This will not be the year for either the Buffalo Bills or the New England Patriots. But both teams may cause some grief later in the season. The Pats have fast-maturing Jim Plunkett at quarterback and the Bills could be awfully dangerous once they get some bodies to go with O.J. Simpson.

This is going to be the year of the Steelers in the Central Division. Coach Chuck Noll has molded Pittsburgh, which has never won a pro football title, into a potentially explosive club.

Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw should live up to his college nom de guerre, The Rifleman.

this season, his third as a pro.

The golden-haired thrower, once the national schoolboy javelin record-holder, has an able pass-catching corps in Ron Shanklin and Dave Hunt, plus Preston Pearson and John Fuqua to lug the ball on the ground.

The defense is young but growing up rapidly.

If Paul Brown had a Terry Bradshaw, the Bengals might go all the way in the Central Division. He doesn't. But Cincinnati will improve greatly over its 1971 showing with quarterback Virgil Carter back in shape. And the Bengals have a rookie defensive back, Tommy Casanova, who'll be making himself heard for years to come.

Boston Set For Clash With Tulane

BOSTON (AP) — Boston College, bidding for national recognition as New England's unquestioned No. 1 college football power, makes its earliest debut in history as host to Tulane's Green Wave tonight.

The game launches a heavy weekend of activity but is the only major contest scheduled tonight.

The Eagles have rolled up 8-2 and 9-2 records under Coach Joe Yukica the last two seasons.

Yukica, starting his fifth year at BC, figures the Eagles are stronger than in 1971, but notes the team is playing a tougher schedule. The offense appears potent, despite the loss of the entire starting backfield by graduation.

Junior Gary Marangi, described by Yukica as one of the best potential quarterbacks in BC history, will direct the attack.

Arizona State, ranked 13th, goes for its 29th victory in 30 games Saturday against once-beaten Houston in a nationally televised game in the Astro-dome.

6 Nonconference Games In Mid-Am

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Olympic track gold medalist Gerald Tinker switches sports in a hurry this week.

The 5-foot-11, 175-pound junior, who ran a leg on the victorious U.S. 400-meter relay team at Munich, will play slot back for Kent State at Louisville Saturday night.

The contest is one of six non-conference football games involving Mid-American teams Saturday.

Ohio Football Squads Set Busy Slate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ray Callahan minces no words. Second-ranked Colorado is the top opponent in his four seasons as the University of Cincinnati football coach.

"They are the best team we've played against since I've been here," Callahan said before the Bearcats match 1-0 records Saturday at Colorado.

Its one of 24 games for Ohio colleges Saturday as the 1972 college season reaches full speed for the first time.

Third-ranked Ohio State launches the season with a Big Ten game with visiting Iowa, and there are also six league contests involving Ohio College Division eleven.

Ohio Conference pairings send Heidelberg to Ohio Wesleyan, and Kenyon to Otterbein in a night game.

Findlay, which shared the 1971 Hoosier-Buckeye Conference title with Anderson, makes its league start a night home game with Earlham. Bluffton travels to Taylor for a day H-BC game.

Case Western Reserve goes to Bethany, and John Carroll hosts Washington and Jefferson in a pair of President's Conference tests.

In other games for Ohio major college schools, Bowling Green is at Purdue, Toledo at Eastern Michigan, Dayton at Miami, Ohio University at Idaho and, at night, Temple at Xavier and Kent State at Louisville.

Elsewhere, Marietta is at Allegheny, Dennison at Thiel, Centre at Oberlin, Western Kentucky at Wittenberg, Adrian at Defiance and Akron at Butler.

Other night contests have Capital at Ashland, Mount Union at Ohio Northern, Baldwin-Wallace at Evansville and West Liberty at Muskingum.

In the others, Ohio University is at Idaho, Western Michigan at Fresno State, Toledo at Eastern Michigan, Dayton at Miami and Bowling Green at Purdue.

Despite his brief workouts for football, Tinker will see limited action against the Cardinals.

"We will start Eddie Woodard," Kent State Coach Don James said, "but Tinker will be in there some."

Tinker, a Miami, Fla., native, set out last season after playing as a sophomore at Memphis State.

Toledo, shorn last week of the nation's longest winning streak of 35 games 21-0 by Tampa, starts anew with a revamped attack at Eastern Michigan. Coach Jack Murphy has Rich Eberlin, a linebacker in the opener, back at his old fullback spot.

"We've got to be able to run better than that," Murphy said of the Rockets' paltry 44 yards at Tampa. Tim Irvine, Toledo's fullback last week, returns to defense.

Ohio University plays Idaho for the first time without star runner Bill Gary, who rushed for more than 1,000 yards two seasons ago.

"We have no idea when he

"HOUSE OF BETTER BOWLING"

Grid Forecaster Sees Raider Loss

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The schedule-makers of the National Football League came up with some dillies for the opening Sunday of the 1972 campaign.

There's the battle between Kansas City's Chiefs and Miami's Dolphins, first meeting of the two teams since last December's long sudden-death playoff game, which the Dolphins won on Garo Yepremian's field goal.

And Pittsburgh, which is expected to shine in the American Conference's Central Division, has always-tough Oakland as its initial foe.

Then, just to keep things hopping, and make it tough for pickers, there's the Monday night game featuring the rejuvenated Redskins from Washington against the Minnesota Vikings.

Enough of the preliminaries. It's time to do or die as the NFL gets down to the business of deciding who'll wind up in Super Bowl VII. Here's how the Fearless Football Forecaster calls them:

Pittsburgh 27, Oakland 21—This is a pick-it game where the action is, but Terry Bradshaw should outduel Daryle Lamonica, and have a wide enough margin at the end that the Raiders can't win on a George Blanda field goal.

Kansas City 24, Miami 21—The Chiefs have been waiting for this one. So has Miami. But Len Dawson will prevail, because the Chief's defense will stop Bob Griese and the Dolphin runners just enough.

San Francisco 31, San Diego 28—Or it could be a tie. With John Brodie throwing for the 49ers and John Hadl performing the same feat for the Chargers, there will be offense for all. But Brodie will be the best.

Atlanta 21, Chicago 7—The Falcons, so says Coach Norm Van Brocklin, have their best outfit ever. This isn't a true test of the Dutchman's forecast because the Bears have nothing but memories with the exit of Gale Sayers.

Cincinnati 21, New England 14—The Bengals have a healthy Virgil Carter and he's got a line to protect him. Jim Plunkett of the Patriots doesn't have one.

Cleveland 17, Green Bay 14—The Browns have a fine running corps in Leroy Kelly and Bo Scott. The Packers counter with MacArthur Lane and John Brockington. Cleveland, however, can also mount an aerial attack.

Denver 30, Houston 27—This marks the debut of two more college coaches to the pro ranks, the Broncos' John Ralston and the Oilers' Bill Peterson. The home stadium should provide the margin here.

Los Angeles 30, New Orleans 20—Roman Gabriel will riddle the New Orleans secondary and when he gets tired, Willie Ellison can lug the ball. Archie Manning may have to get some help from backup quarterback Edd Hargett when he tires from his scrambling.

Detroit 35, New York Giants 17—The Lions will roll with Greg Landry at the throttle and Steve Owens gobbling up yardage on the ground. The first game of a long season for the Giants.

New York Jets 26, Buffalo 18—Broadway Joe is healthy and so are the Jets. Buffalo has O. J. Simpson. No contest here.

Dallas 42, Philadelphia 14—Figuring the Eagles for two touchdowns is probably over generous. Craig Morton won't have any problems this time and the Cowboys will win big.

Baltimore 28, St. Louis 21—

Bengals Seek Backup Man; Taliaferro Out

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals are in the market for another quarterback after releasing backup man Mike Taliaferro.

"I'm aware that we're playing it pretty thin," Coach Paul Brown said, noting the Bengals' past bad luck with quarterback injuries.

"We'll be looking now for another backup quarterback."

Cincinnati now has only two regular quarterbacks—Ken Anderson and Virgil Carter. Dave Lewis, a punter, filled in at the position in two games last year during injuries to the other two. Brown shrugged when asked about the still ailing Greg Cook, injured since 1969.

"He can't play for the first seven weeks of the season in any event," Brown said. Cook remained on the unable-to-perform list, barring him from practicing with the team until Oct. 15.

The 1969 American Football League rookie-of-the-year suffered a shoulder injury that same year. He has undergone a number of operations since and has been undergoing a special therapy program.

Taliaferro appeared briefly last Saturday near the end of the preseason contest in which the Atlanta Falcons drubbed the Bengals 44-14.

The nine-year veteran came to Cincinnati on waivers Aug. 17 from the New England Patriots, who the Bengals face in the opening game of the National Football League season Sunday.

"We're going to let Mike go," Brown said, "and he's agreeable. He said he feels we have two quarterbacks and it makes a difficult position for him. He'd have been a guy on our move list all the time."

The Bengals also released kicker Dave Green, a rookie from Ohio University.

Brown said that both defensive lineman Steve Chomyszak, linebacker Ken Avery and running back Fred Willis will be activated by the end of the week. All missed the final four exhibition games with injuries.

Jaycees Sponsor Shooter Course

The Circleville Jaycees will sponsor a Shooter Education course on Tuesday from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Elsie Family Outdoor Center on N. Court Street.

The instructor will be Mr. Tom Weldon, State Game Protector.

The course consists of lecture, demonstration and movies on safe handling of sporting arms and field courtesy. There is no charge for the course which is open to all youngsters age 10 to 16.

NRA certificates and Ohio Safe Hunter shoulder patches will be awarded to all boys and girls who successfully complete the written exam at the conclusion of the course.

Call 474-5710 to register and if additional information is required, contact Jim Gee at 474-2975 or Lou McFarland at 474-8274.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

Johnny Unitas is at the controls for the Colts. The Cardinals will run the ball. But the Colts will move it both on the ground and in the air.

Washington 21, Minnesota 20—The upset special of the week. Last-quarter heroics by Sonny Jurgensen will pull it out for the Redskins.

Reds To Host San Diego; Hope To Clinch Pennant

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds host the San Diego Padres tonight to open a six-game home stand in their final drive to clinch the western division of the National League.

San Diego one of the few National League teams holding the upper hand on Cincinnati — winning eight of 15 games, will send tall, screwball-throwing Fred Norman to the mound.

While Norman has only an 8-9 record for the season, he has defeated the Reds three times this season.

Norman is one of the few southpaws to take the measure of Cincinnati this year. Against lefties, the Reds have a 25-10 record as reflected in the batting averages of the top Cincinnati hitters. Joe Morgan has hit .327 against lefthanders, Bobby Tolan .321, Pete Rose .317 and Tony Perez .303.

San Diego will be followed by the San Francisco Giants for three games starting Monday, then the Reds move to Houston for three games with the Astros.

Bench, however, is currently in a hitting streak and has moved into contention for home run and runs-batted-in awards.

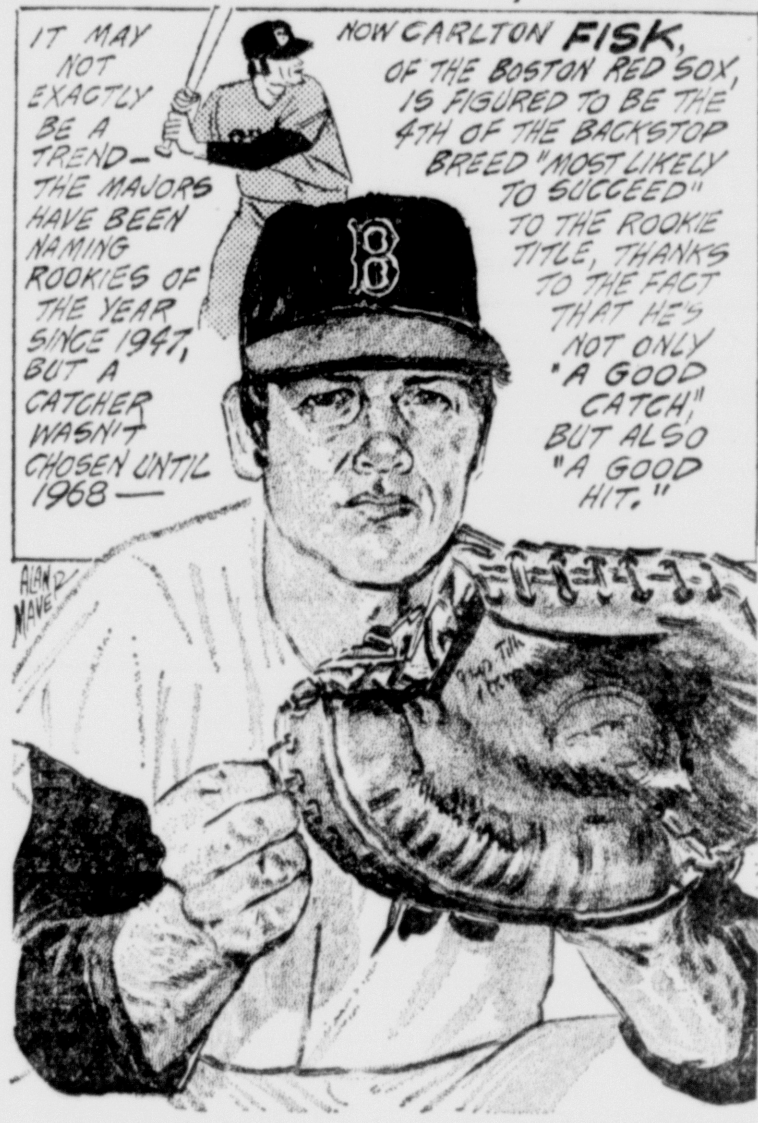

He trails San Diego's Nate Colbert in home runs 37-33 and Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell in RBIs 111-108.

While Cincinnati has had a tough time winning at home, they have taken the last 12 of 17 games in Riverfront Stadium and hold a narrow 34-29 home record. On the road, the Reds have won 51 and lost 24.

The recent 5-6 road trip was the only losing out-of-town series for Cincinnati this year.

Don Gullett will pitch for the Reds tonight, hoping to improve his 8-8 record. The young lefthander missed much of the season following a bout with hepatitis.

Sports Highlights

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Former amateur king Deane Beman has a one-stroke edge in the $150,000 Greater St. Louis Golf Classic with action likely to get even hotter before the week's out.

Right behind the diminutive Beman in the Professional Golfers Association event is garrulous Lee Trevino, who Thursday matched a flock of six Beman birdsies but also three-putted for a bogey.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Two workouts-a-day begin today for 34 hockey players hoping to land a spot on the first roster of the Cleveland

Crusaders of the World Hockey Association.

The players arrived at the club's Bowling Green University training site Thursday night and are scheduled to meet today with Chuck Catto, Crusaders director of player personnel who's running the camp in the absence of a coach.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — George Scott raced in with the winning run when Cleveland catcher Jerry Moses threw wild past third on a pickoff attempt with the bases loaded in the 15th inning giving Milwaukee a 4-3 victory over the Indians Thursday night.

Scott opened the winning rally with a one-out walk, stole second and eventually moved to third as Johny Briggs was intentionally walked and Joe LaHoud singled.

The marathon affair took four hours and 31 minutes to play.

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Favorites in tonight's $3,200 featured eighth race at Latonia are Lota Botta and Galadan, over a mile for three-year-olds and up.

Cinchit ran past favored No Chapeau in the feature Thursday, winning by two lengths, and paid $23.00, $6.00 and $2.60. The place horse returned $2.80 and $2.40, and Double Scoundrel, third, $2.80.

Free Silver and All Involved combined 7-1A in the daily double for $32.20. All Involved ran as an entry with Rigable. The crowd of 2,953 wagered $320,681.

Top Chinese Red To Lead Delegation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua will again lead the China delegation when the General Assembly convenes Tuesday.

Chinese Ambassador Huang Hua also said Wednesday that Chiao will meet with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, British Foreign Secretary Alex Douglas-Home and Foreign Ministers Andrei Gromyko of Russia and Maurice Schumann of France at a dinner Sept. 27 to be given by U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim.

RECORD SETTER — Circleville's Dick Liston crosses the finish line to capture first place and set a Tiger cross country mark Thursday in a meet with Hamilton Twp.

Tiger Runners Down Hamilton In Dual Meet

Dick Liston set a Circleville cross country record as the Tigers downed Hamilton Twp., 17-49 Thursday in the season opener on the Red and Black course.

Liston toured the course in 9:25 to break Steve Richard's mark of 9:28.

Circleville picked up eight of the first 10 places to dominate the meet.

Jeff Robbins, 9:42, was second; Matt McGowan, 9:59, third, Hamilton's Dan Collier, 10:09, fourth; Glen Gillespie, 10:11, fifth; Steve Watters, 10:29, sixth; John McCoy, 10:59, seventh; Keith Stevenson, 11:01, eighth; Hamilton's Garringier, 11:02, ninth; Frank Plescia, 12:05, tenth.

Other Circleville runners were: J. C. Timberlake, 14th; Tom Spring, 15th and Dwight Plum, 17th.

Circleville will be back in action 4:30 p.m. Tuesday when they take to the road for a triangular meet with Teays Valley and Groveport.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Skies cleared over Ohio Thursday night as the active cold front which produced heavy rains over northern sections of the state early Thursday moved south of the Ohio River.

Temperatures in northern sections of the state dropped into the upper 40s and lower 50s, with Youngstown reporting a very cool 44 degrees reading just before sunrise. Southern Ohio temperatures continued in the low 60s at sunrise while those in central Ohio were in the middle 50s.

High pressure over the Ohio Valley will dominate the local area weather for the next 24 hours with mostly clear skies tonight.

A new cold front dropping southeastward across the Great Lakes threatens to produce scattered showers over northern sections of the state on Saturday. A weak low pressure center passing south of the Ohio River will produce at least partly cloudy conditions over southern sections.

FORECASTS
WEST LAKE SHORE, EAST LAKE SHORE, NORTHEAST INLAND, NORTHWEST INLAND — Mostly clear tonight, lows in the 50s. Partly cloudy with a chance of showers Saturday, highs in the 70s. Probability of rain 10 per cent tonight and 30 per cent Saturday.

Debt Ceiling Hike Requested; $465 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration asked Congress Thursday to increase the national debt limit by $15 billion through next June 30.

If Congress approves the administration's request, the debt ceiling would go to $465 billion, enough "to carry us through the end of the current fiscal year," said Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz.

The current debt ceiling of $450 billion expires Oct. 31 and Congress must approve a higher limit by that time or the ceiling will be too low.

The current federal debt subject to statutory limit is $437 billion. The Treasury incurs debt with periodic borrowings to finance the federal deficit.

Former Archbishop Of Canterbury Dies

SHERBORNE, England (AP) — Lord Fisher of Lambeth, the Archbishop of Canterbury from 1945 to 1961, died early today after a stroke. He was 85.

Lord Fisher suffered a slight stroke on Thursday and was taken to a hospital in this Dorset market town.

As Archbishop of Canterbury, he was primate of the Anglican Church. He was raised to the peerage after his retirement.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved
Mother, Vessie Holbrook who passed away three years ago today.
Sadly missed by the Family.

1. Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all my friends and relatives for the beautiful flowers, gifts, cards, visits and prayers during my recent illness.
Thanks also to Dr. Smith and Dr.
Anderson and all the nurses at Berger Hospital.
Mrs. Kathryn Huffer

I wish to thank all my friends, neighbors and relatives for the cards, flowers and prayers during my recent confinement in Riverside Hospital. All were greatly appreciated.
Mrs. Nelson Waliser

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Under the authority of and pursuant to the terms of the Last Will and Testament of Alice R. Brown, deceased, the undersigned, Carl C. Leist, Executor of the Estate of said Alice R. Brown, will offer for sale at public auction on the 18th day of September, 1972, commencing at 1:30 o'clock P.M., at the front door of the Pickaway County Court House, Circleville, Ohio, the following described real estate:

Parcel I:
Situating in the County of Pickaway, in the State of Ohio and in the Township of Circleville (now City of Circleville), and bounded and described as follows:
Being Lot Number Forty-Five (45) in the Charles Isaac Subdivision as recorded in Plat Book No. Three (3), Page ---, Pickaway County Recorder's Office, subject, however, to the following restrictions: The same shall be used for residential purposes only and no dwelling house shall be erected thereon at a cost of less than $3500.00.

Being part of the premises described in the deed from Charles Isaac et al to Cecil C. Van Camp, dated September 24, 1951, and recorded in Deed Book 144, Page 492, in the Recorder's Office of Pickaway County, Ohio.

Being the same premises conveyed to Paul B. Brown and Alice R. Brown by Cecil C. Van Camp, unmarried, by deed dated June ---, 1952 and recorded in Pickaway County Ohio Deed Records Volume 143 at page 347.

Said premises being also known as No. 300 John Street in the City of Circleville, Ohio.

Being also part of the same premises conveyed to Paul B. Brown and Alice R. Brown by The Brown Building Company by deed dated December 30, 1958 and recorded in Pickaway County, Ohio Deed Record 161 at page 646.

The above described Tract 2 is appraised in the Inventory in the estate of said decedent at $5000.00 and can not be sold for less than two-thirds of said appraised value.

Tract 3:
Situating in the County of Pickaway, in the State of Ohio and in the Township of Circleville (now City of Circleville), and bounded and described as follows:
Being Lot Number Forty-Six (46) in the Charles Isaac Subdivision as recorded in Plat Book No. Three (3), Page ---, Pickaway County Recorder's Office, subject, however, to the following restrictions: The same shall be used for residential purposes only and no dwelling house shall be erected thereon at a cost of less than $3500.00.

Being part of the premises described in the deed from Charles Isaac et al to Cecil C. Van Camp, dated September 24, 1951, and recorded in Deed Book 144, Page 492, in the Recorder's Office of Pickaway County, Ohio.

Being the same premises conveyed to Paul B. Brown and Alice R. Brown by Cecil C. Van Camp, unmarried, by deed dated June ---, 1952 and recorded in Pickaway County Ohio Deed Records Volume 143 at page 348.

Said premises being also known as No. 300 John Street in the City of Circleville, Ohio.

Being also part of the same premises conveyed to Paul B. Brown and Alice R. Brown by The Brown Building Company by deed dated December 30, 1958 and recorded in Pickaway County, Ohio Deed Record 161 at page 646.

Fall Schedules Of Shows Given

Interested in the arts? Several Columbus groups have prepared their schedules of events for the fall and winter season which may be an attraction to local residents.

Danny Deeds has scheduled Henry Mancini and his orchestra for a show to be presented at Veterans Memorial Auditorium on Oct. 15 at 8 p.m.

Mancini puts the "return to romance" movement before the public. Some of his greatest and most successful songs are in the romantic genre, such as "Days of Wine and Roses," "Moon River" (successes during the heyday of the Beatles); the theme from "Love Story," which has become a romantic classic; taking its place beside other uniquely Mancini arrangements of "Dear Heart," "Charade," "Two for the Road," and the theme from "Romeo and Juliet."

Because of the overwhelming demand for tickets for the personal appearance of Rudolf Nureyev with the National Ballet of Canada, an extra performance has been added. Deeds announces that the star of ballet will now be appearing at Veterans Memorial Sept. 30 as well as Oct. 1. Both performances will be at 8:30.

The National Ballet of Canada, without Nureyev, will also present an Oct. 1 matinee at 2:30 p.m., to give young people the opportunity to see a nationally famous ballet company perform.

Tickets for all these events are available at the Ohio Theatre Box Office.

OSU College of the Arts will repeat the highly successful summer production of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," opening Oct. 11 through Oct. 21. Performances will be at 8 p.m.

Butler County Officials Try To End Cycle Gang Trouble

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Seven persons were under arrest today as Butler County officials moved to head off further trouble between two motor cycle gangs.

Hamilton Police Chief George McNally said he would "not tolerate this type of violence," between the Fuguros and the Iron Horsemen.

Officers made the arrests during a raid on the Fuguros headquarters where they confiscated a homemade bomb, two sawed-off shotguns, handguns, knives, chains, a bow and arrows and a slingshot.

Police acted Thursday following the beating of a man and the attempted firebombing of a house. Officers said there had been other incidents in Fairfield and in Mount Healthy.

The chief said both gangs had in the Experimental Theatre of Drake Center, new home of the Department of Theater.

The second major production by the theatre department will be the world premiere Nov. 18 of "Jabberwock," a new play by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, concerning James Thurber's late adolescent years in Columbus and his early years at Ohio State University. The play will mark the dedication of the Thurber Theatre at the Drake Center.

Evan Whallon, conductor of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, will conduct the University Symphony Orchestra in its first fall performance Nov. 14 at 8 p.m. in Mereson Auditorium. Lois Marshall, soprano, and Christopher Kimber, violinist, will appear as guest soloists.

ADIR (American Dance in Repertory) will perform its 1972-73 repertory in two concerts in Mereson on Nov. 10 and 11.

Bach's Christmas Oratorio will be performed by the University Orchestra and Choral, under the direction of Maurice Casey, on Dec. 10. The concert will be followed by an Elizabethan Christmas Dinner at the Ohio Union. The dinner will be limited to the first 250 persons requesting reservations.

A very special event will be a return by the First Moog Quartet, who were sponsored in an Ohio Theatre concert by the College of The Arts two years ago. This highly entertaining and educational group will perform in Mereson Auditorium on Oct. 21st.

Inquiries should be directed to the College of the Arts Publicity office at 422-5173. Copies of the Autumn Quarter Calendar of the Arts are available on request.

Deny Ohio River Water Going Bad

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) has taken exception to a federal report that water quality is declining in the Ohio River.

David Dunsmore, ORSANCO sanitary engineer, said a report was being prepared to dispute the charge by the President's Council on Environmental Quality.

He said one Cincinnati monitoring station reported an increased odor and another a slight increase in pollution.

But of the 187 monitoring stations from New York state to Cairo, Ill., 16 showed some decline in water quality, 18 improved, 69 "improving slightly" and 82 showed no change.

The ORSANCO board Thursday notified four municipalities and one industry that further action will be taken against them if they do not comply with agreed-upon schedules to clean up discharges.

The commission ordered Detroit Steel in Portsmouth, Ohio, and Madison, Ind., to stop all discharges as of Nov. 1 or face court action.

Alternate plans to the compliance schedules previously ordered will be considered, however, the commission said.

Conway, Pa., and Wellsburg, W. Va., were warned of action if schedules were not completed by Oct. 1.

All had been ordered to install secondary treatment facilities.

Attorneys For Judge Withdraw

CINCINNATI (AP) — Defense attorneys for Judge George S. Heitzler, who has been suspended by the Ohio Supreme Court from the Hamilton County Domestic Relations Court, have resigned.

The attorneys, Bernard J. Gilday Jr. and Stanley Goodman made no comment on their withdrawals.

The Cincinnati Enquirer said today that Chief Justice C. William O'Neill revealed the contents of Gilday's letter of withdrawal. "I respectfully submit I cannot effectively and in good conscience continue as counsel," the justice quoted Gilday.

Retired Montgomery County Domestic Relations Court Judge Frank N. Nicholas was appointed by the high court to serve in Heitzler's place while final briefs are being prepared in a suit against Heitzler.

The action against Heitzler was brought by the Cincinnati Bar Association, which charged him with violation of judicial ethics.

The Supreme Court's 17-member Board of Commissioners on Grievances and Discipline had recommended Heitzler be indefinitely suspended from the practice of law.

Worms Slither Onto Runway At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Thousands of worms slithered onto the main runway at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport Thursday, causing a DC10 jetliner to skid before landing safely and delaying takeoffs of six planes for 30 minutes.

Officials said heavy rain forced the worms to seek dry, higher ground on 3,000 feet of the 9,000 foot runway.

A mechanical broom was used to whisk the worms off the runway.

"I understand it was quite a phenomenon," said Gunther E. Katzmar, commissioner of airports. He said it was the first time the airport has had a problem with worms in eight years.

Whenever skin is broken, the first job is to get it clean so that no infection will start.

Aviation Pioneers Hold Columbus Reunion

By DAVID TOMLIN
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The OX-5 Club landed in Columbus this week for its annual reunion—three days of nostalgic camaraderie devoted to the serious business of keeping alive a kind of flying that members consider scarier and more fun than today's brand of airborne transportation.

These men and women were flying kindling and baling wire aircraft back in the days when a good landing was "one you walked away from." They're a unique group, and they're jealous of their status in the aviation world.

"Yes, there was a lot of romance and poetry to it. Those of us who flew 30, 40 years ago, we had no advantage," Karl Voelter, OX-5 president, said Thursday.

"We had no electronics to guide us. We learned how to fly instruments without having instruments. I used to fly at night from Miami to New York carrying pictures for The Associated Press or Paramount News."

Multiple Sclerosis Society Conducts Education Drive

The Greater Cincinnati Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society September 1st opened a month-long educational campaign to acquaint residents of this area with the tragic consequences that can so often accompany Multiple Sclerosis, a disease of the central nervous system that has been called "the great crippler of young adults."

Charles D. Morris, chairman of the campaign in this area, said the program to educate the public about MS would continue throughout the month of September. All 192 chapters and branches of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society are participating in the campaign.

Morris pointed out that MS and other closely related neurological disorders afflict an estimated 500,000 Americans, yet few people know much about it.

"The more people who know more about it," he said, "and the more people we can involve in the fight against it, the sooner we can defeat it."

"Basically," Morris said, "Multiple Sclerosis attacks the substance which sheathes nerve fibers, causing nerve impulses controlling movement, vision, speech and balance to be distorted or even completely blocked." He said it can be a progressive disease, often leading to total disability, but noted that most MS patients continue to lead active, vital lives.

"Still," he said, "science has yet to discover the cause, prevention or treatment of multiple sclerosis although such famed scientists as Dr. Jonas Salk, who played a prime role in the discovery of the polio vaccine, and Dr. H. Houston Merritt, Dean Emeritus of Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons, believe some of the answers may be found shortly."

In the last 25 years, the National Multiple Sclerosis

Evidence In Complex Theft Eyed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Matt Byrne Jr. has postponed a ruling on whether to accept as evidence $30,000 found after the $3.3 million "Mission Impossible" burglary of a bank in Laguna Niguel.

He said Thursday he would hand down a decision Monday in the trial of three of five men accused in the March safe-cracking.

FBI agents said they found the money in the Cleveland, Ohio home of one of the defendants, Phillip B. Christopher, 31. But Christopher's attorney said during a pre-trial hearing that the money was found during an illegal search.

Charles A. Mulligan, 31, of Youngstown, Ohio, and Anil Dinsio, 36, of Boardman, Ohio, will be tried with Christopher.

Two other men are at large. They are identified by police as Harry Barber, 31, of Youngstown and his brother Ronald, 29, of Southgate, Calif.

Agents said some bills in the $30,000 could be traced to the bank.

On the weekend of March 24, burglars cut through the bank's roof, bypassed an alarm system, blasted into the vault and sorted out about $2 million in securities and $1 million in jewelry and cash from safety deposit boxes.

Society has allocated more than $18 million for MS research, much of it raised by local units such as the Greater Cincinnati Chapter.

"At this point," Mr. Morris said, "nationwide interest and support of research in multiple sclerosis is vital. We need a concerned, informed and aroused public if this disease is to be eradicated."

He said anyone wishing information about MS or desiring to participate in local programs should call or write Greater Cincinnati Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, 1216 E. McMillan Street, Cincinnati, Ohio 45206, 281-5200.

The Greater Cincinnati Chapter includes the counties of Adams, Brown, Clermont, Fayette, Highland, Pickaway, Pike, Ross, Vinton, Warren, Hamilton and Butler, Campbell, Kenton and Boone Counties in Northern Kentucky.

Voelter, who is 77, still flies. He's a jet-qualified commercial pilot. "We can still fly just as good as we ever could," he said.

The OX-5 is a dying organization. "A last man's club," Voelter said.

The membership, about 5,000 strong this year, is limited to persons who flew, owned or maintained aircraft powered by the Curtiss OX-5 water-cooled engine before Dec. 30, 1941.

The club's national board of governors has resisted every attempt to change the rules to permit hereditary membership extensions, and when the last man or woman dies who knew the OX-5 in its working days, there will be no more club.

"It's a unique group," Voelter said. "We're jealous of our standing in the world of aviation. There's a certain protectiveness of their having achieved what they did. They were pioneers."

One vestige of the OX-5 Club will remain when the club itself is gone—the Aviation Hall of Fame made up of pioneer aviators "outstanding in the development and promotion of aviation."

City Boys Choir Named

The following boys have been selected for the 1972-73 Circleville Boys Choir. The choir enters its fifth year and is available for concerts for local organizations and churches.

Members for the current year are: Mike Alkire, Jay Barton, Craig Berlin, Tony Bobbitt, Scott and Todd Brady, Jonathan Brevard, David Clifton, Richard Eveland, Mark Gerhart, and Greg Greenlee.

Greg Hewitt, Jeff and Jimmy Jacobs, Billy Lyle, John Morehart, Keith Palm, Jim Restin, Brad Shuttleworth, David Spain and Randy Wolfe.

The members of the choir were chosen following two weeks of auditions held by the director Paul Dunkle. The rehearsals are held weekly in the St. Phillips Parish Hall, on Thursday evenings from 3:45 to 5 p.m.

traffic and modern regulations have "taken the fun out of flying," said the OX-5 couldn't compare with modern engines for performance. "But it was a good, solid, reliable piece of equipment."

The engine was first used in World War I military aircraft and then made an easy transition into civilian planes.

Voelter said the club's governors met to consider the problem of its inevitable demise.

"The attrition at this age is very bad," he said. "But we've got some prominent members who've said they'd just quit if we changed the rules."

See Industry In Trouble On Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government-sponsored committee said Thursday the steel industry would be hard-pressed to meet federal antipollution guidelines.

Members of the committee, a sub-council of the National Industrial Pollution Control Council, include executives of the steel industry. The report was prepared for President Nixon.

According to the panel, complying with federal environmental guidelines would require a minimum capital investment of more than $2.5 billion.

The committee said the steel industry would have to invest another $1 billion to comply with proposed water pollution control legislation.

"Even in the best times, this total expenditure would be a staggering burden for the steel industry," the panel said.

It added that this is eight times the total earnings of the industry during 1970.

More Deer In Ohio, Wildlife Division Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There are more deer in Ohio this year than last, if the non-hunting mortality rate is an accurate indicator.

The Wildlife Division said the reported nonhunting deer kill of 1,632 for the first half of 1972, mostly by autos, was an 18 per cent increase over the first six months of last year.

Dry And Cool Weather Spreads Across Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most of the nation had dry and cool weather today, bringing to an end persistent rains that have soaked many parts of the Plains, Midwest and New England.

Portions of southwestern Iowa still were experiencing flooding from hard rains earlier in the week.

A frontal system that caused the rains moved into the South, spreading showers from the southern mountains in the West to the central and southern Atlantic coast.

Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin felt a moderate earthquake early today which the National Earthquake Information Center at Boulder, Colo., measured between 4 and 5 on the Richter scale of intensity. Damage reportedly was minor.

20-Month Contract Signed By Mechanics

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 20-month contract believed to be a likely model for six other pending settlements has been ratified by United Air Line's 16,000 mechanics, say a spokesman at the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers convention.

IAM Vice President Dan Blue said Wednesday approval of the contract resulted from voting conducted as a federally ordered 30-day cooling-off period expired.
